Other Priests Promoted Are Well Known Here—Practically Every One of the 15 Priests Affected by Transfers Are Widely Known in Diocese—New Parish Set Apart in Graniteville—Rev. Fr. Murphy Promoted to Important Pastorate in Dorchester

In the one of largest transfers been favored at the same time, as the ed over by Rev. Charles E. Heaney as among the Catholic clergy of the Boston diocese, just announced by Cardinal O'Connell, Lowell priests, and priests well known here have been singularly honored and the news of their promotion will be gratifying indeed to their friends here. Rarely, perhaps, in the history of the archdiocese, have so many sons of Lowell been favored at the same time, as the announcement indicates, and while the other promotions have not come to Lowell men several of them are very well known here through their identification with local parishes and hence the news has a local interest. Six new parishes have been established in the diocese, one in the Graniteville section of Westford, heretofore presided over by Rev. Aloysius S. Malone, who while a native of New York, spent many years here before he entered college. He comes to Graniteville after a meritorious service in Arlington and several places in the diocese. Fr. Malone is a cousin of Bishop Allen of Worcester, Ala., and is a splendid pulpit orator. Rev. David J. Murphy, pastor of St. Andrew's church, North Belvidere, has been promoted to the important parish of St. William's, in Dorchester. This is regarded as one of the finest parishes in the diocese and as Rev. Fr. Murphy was stationed in St. Leo's church, in Dorchester, for years, he will be at home at least in that section.

It was enlarged by Jonathan Tyler, who was grandfather of the present Stevens family. Further renovation and enlargement occurred about 30 years ago. It is reported that the building is to be transformed into a high school for girls to be conducted by the Oblate Fathers.

The house is assessed for $11,000, the barn for $1000 and the land for $6000, making a total of $18,600. The purchase price has not been given out.

TREES DAMAGED BY WIND STORM

Every available man in the park department was out today clearing up the havoc wrought by yesterday's wind storm. While Lowell did not fare any worse than many other eastern Massachusetts cities, considerable damage was done to trees all over the city. No particular neighborhood was hit harder than another, although high spots were subjected to a severe wind lashing.

A number of trees are down, while scores are split and damaged. A large elm in front of 132 First street was split the entire length of its trunk and the department will be at

URGES CONGRESS TO PASS BILL

Difficult and Discouraging Situation if Merchant Marine Bill is Not Sanctioned

President Would Feel Obligated to Call an Extraordinary Session to Act

WASHINGTON, June 13.—By the Associated Press) President Harding has signed Chairman Campbell of the house rules committee that unless the ship subsidy bill is passed prior to adjournment, he would feel obligated to call a special session solely for its consideration.

Writing under the date of May 24, the president said "so much is involved" and such a difficult and discouraging situation will follow if congress fails to sanction the merchant marine bill, that I should feel myself obligated to call congress immediately in extraordinary session to especially consider it. If it went over through any neglect or delay beyond the present term."

ENLARGE VARNUM PARK

Residents of Centralville Want City to Take Land in First Street

A petition was received by City Engineer Stephen Kearney this noon, signed by El A. Wilson and a hundred or more other residents of Centralville, that land on First street be taken by the city to enlarge Varnum park and asking for an immediate hearing before the board of public service.

Inasmuch as the board will hold hearings on a number of petitions Thursday evening of this week, a hearing on this proposition will be given at the same time.

The idea of the petitioners is that unless the city takes this land along the river bank at this time, when the houses thereon are to be moved back to allow for the new boulevard, no future time will arise and the park never can be enlarged. Also, they claim that it will cost the city as much to move the buildings back and relocate them as it would to seize and raze them.

UNUSUAL SUIT BROUGHT BY LOWELL WOMAN

A rather unusual suit has been brought against the F. W. Woolworth Co., which operates a chain of five-and-ten-cent stores in this country with one in the Beldred building in this city, the plaintiff in the case being Miss Maude Farrington of Lowell, who is endeavoring to recover damages for alleged personal injuries, brought about, she claims, through the use of soap she purchased at the local store of the company.

Miss Farrington claims that some time ago she purchased a bar of soap from the Woolworth store and the use of the soap injured her skin because of poliothenic ingredients which it contained. Through her counsel, Hon. James E. O'Donnell, she has brought an action of tort in the sum of $5,000 and the case will be heard at the setting of the civil session of the superior court.

"Sylpho-Nathol hasn't an objection"

"Say 'disinfectant' or 'deodorant' to the average housekeeper and she pictures a messy, sticky, hard-to-use 'mixture' whose smell is almost as unpleasant as the odor it replaces.

"That's why housekeepers are so delighted to find in Sylpho-Nathol an effective preparation that hasn't one of these objections."

Sylpho-Nathol destroys germs—they can't live where it is used, because it is 45 times stronger than carbolic acid. Yet Sylpho-Nathol is as safe to have in the house as a cake of scouring soap. It cannot hurt your skin nor injure household things.

Sylpho-Nathol banishes bad odors for good. The objectionable smells which develop so rapidly in the best cared for homes quickly disappear, when it is used. But Sylpho-Nathol's own pleasant, friendly odor doesn't linger.

Sylpho-Nathol is easy to use. A teaspoonful in a quart of warm water makes a clean-smelling, pearl-gray solution that's ready for immediate use.

Sylpho-Nathol is a year-through, every-day necessity. In mop-water, it destroys the germs that get into floor cracks and corners and can't be budged by ordinary methods. It is indispensable for keeping garbage cans clean and sweet and free from unpleasant odors and disease-carrying flies.

Sylpho-Nathol is an important sanitary measure in the bathroom, for cleaning around the fixtures and as a flush for the closed bowl. When sprinkled in cellar corners, it is a sure preventive of damp, musty cellar smells.

Sylpho-Nathol is also a splendid antiseptic which should be in the medicine chest ready for cuts, burns, bruises, sprains and other home accidents, which require prompt, first-aid treatment.

Sylpho-Nathol comes in four handy sizes, 15c, 35c, 65c, $1.25. Most good grocers and druggists have it. If yours hasn't, he can get it easily. Just ask for it by the name—"Sylpho-Nathol."

WAS SERIOUSLY INJURED AT DEPOT

Walter Nee, a resident of Boston, is at St. Joslin's hospital, suffering from fractured skull as a result of a fall at the railroad station in Middletown street last evening, and his condition is considered serious. As far as could be learned Nee jumped off a moving train at the station about 11:30 o'clock and struck his head forcibly on the platform. The ambulance removed him to the hospital.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

BY THEATRE'S OWN PRESS AGENTS

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

Wally Reid, with his smooth ways and plied his trade just as good as ever in his latest picture, "Across the Continent," now showing at the Merrimack Square theatre.

Plenty of action is produced by the picture as is generally the case when handsome Wally starts his pictures before the public.

The story is one in which a Ford auto plays the part of the hero.

The auto is a Ford, but for this picture its name is changed to a Dent.

But for the story, John Dent owns the Dent auto plant located in Michigan. For his son, son Jimmy, who, of course, is Wally Reid. And there is beautiful Mary MacLaren, the elder Dent's private secretary, who is in love with the dashing Jimmy.

As vice president of the Dent Motor company, Jimmy is in love with the product it turns out, not with the product it turns out, in fact Jimmy hates the sight of a Dent car, and as for riding in one, he much prefers to walk.

The father issues an order to all employees of the Dent company that they must ride in Dent cars. If they were to own any just about the time, the old Dent issues the order, son Jimmy is across the street buying a $5000 Touraine car for his own private use.

The Touraine people held the tour, the Touraine people held the tour, and were very proud of it. Also, they said, their representatives did not hesitate to wreck other cars attempting to beat the record.

After buying the car Jimmy comes back to the factory, reads his father's order, has a blowup and decides to accept the invitation to the Touraine people for a trip to California. The father of the Dent, the Touraine manufacturer, who is somewhat of a flapper, accompanies Jimmy, and her father and brother on the trip.

In the meantime the old man decides to go after the record with the Dent car, but builds a car secretly and hires one of the country's best known race drivers to pilot the car. The car gets away to a great start, but half way across the continent, it is wrecked by the Touraine agents. The agents are detected doing a dirty work and the story is exposed in the newspaper.

The news upsets the Touraine people and Jimmy who are nearing the Pacific coast. Jimmy becomes incensed at the unsportsmanlike act and offers $25,000 as a prize for an open race. His father ends the race, but Jimmy, who is a powerful racer, Jimmy decides he wants to win the race himself and goes out to buy a high-powered car.

The time for the race arrives and the eight cars entered are brought up to the mark. With a start, three cars leave before the rest, old Dent and his driver have an argument, following which the driver quits and refuses to start the race.

The old man whips off his coat, declaring he will drive himself.

Jimmy takes pity on his dad and abandons his great chance to race, giving up his powerful car to drive the Dent. For three-quarters of the way across the country the Dent is in last position. Finally a rain storm comes up and washes out roads and makes the going very tough on the big car. But the little old Dent rambles right along.

With but a lap of the race to go, the Dent's mechanism is hurt and his father's private secretary diagnoses hisself as a man and takes a place beside Jimmy in the car. How the other autos are passed on the way, the ride through a fire, and the dash through a tunnel just ahead of a speeding express train all go towards finishing up the picture in the imagination.

"The Ordnent" is also a picture that is sure to please. It depicts the life of a girl who marries a wealthy man in order that she may provide comforts for her younger brother and invalid sister. She lives far from her husband, who is finally exposed by an old negro servant who realizes her master's intentions toward the invalid sister. The husband will stipulate that his wife is to have his money only on the condition that she does not have a child.

The wife, however, is in love with a doctor friend. After taking her sister to Paris, where treatment by a famous surgeon cures her, the wife plans to marry the doctor, but changes her mind when she sees how much her brother and sister want her to keep the secret.

After a time, she finds that the man

she has given her brother has led him to evil ways, and then one night she finds her sister at roadhouse in a drunken condition. It takes but little time for her to see that the man is the only one that is breaking up her family and she finally decides to surrender her right to it by marrying the man she loves.

THE STRAND

William Christy Cabanne has written some remarkable stories, but the greatest of all, perhaps, is his picture creation, "At the Stage Door," which is appearing at the Strand theatre the first three days of the week. An unscrupulous woman comes to the city and obtains a position as a chorus girl in a plantation which carries with it all kinds of temptation and suffering, from which she eventually emerges, wiser for her experience. The life behind the scenes, with which so few of us are acquainted, is vividly portrayed in this picture, while a great moral lesson is taught which brings home the truth.

The cast is headed by Lillian "Belle" Dove, who is admirably supported by such celebrities as Elizabeth North, Willie Collier, Jr., Viva Ogden, Charles Craig, Huntley Gordon and Myrtle Maughan.

In "The Scrapper," the second big feature is offered. The star is no other than Herbert Rawlinson, who plays the part of big two-fisted Irishman, and what a scrapper he is. In the play he is inspecting steel girders twenty stories in the air when a strike of dissatisfaction co-workers starts.

Of course the strike must be interrupted, "Malloy," (Rawlinson) determined to do the trick as his own promotion depended on it. Eleson, the cause of all the trouble is inciting the men to follow him and at the same time disregard the attempted persuasion of Malloy. The bully is destined to disappointment, however, for the hero stops the threatened strike, completes the building of the gigantic structure and last, but not least, wins the hand of Eileen McCarthy. The supporting cast includes Gertrude Olmstead, William Welch and others of like caliber. The Irish atmosphere and the clever impersonation of the Irish character by Mr. Rawlinson are noteworthy.

A comedy and a news reel complete the bill.

2. MRS. CHAMBERS CHARGES ROBBERY

NEW YORK, June 13—David Hartman, a process server, ran into trouble last night, when he served Mrs. Ellsle Chambers, wife of Robert W. Chambers, the novelist, with papers in a suit growing out of an automobile accident last March.

When the maid told him that Mrs. Chambers could not be seen the process server rushed past her upstairs as Mrs. Chambers emerged from her bath.

Hartman is alleged then threw the subpoena at her and fled downstairs.

Half an hour later Mrs. Chambers reported to the police that a pearl necklace, which was valued at $2075 was missing. Hartman was arrested on a charge of grand larceny. He admitted serving the subpoena, but denied guilt for the disappearance of the necklace.

HAD DIZZY Spells

When the blood is thin, the nerves undernourished and the digestion weak, the system is in a state of debility which will not correct itself but will grow worse unless a tonic is taken. This was the condition in which Miles Minnie Compton, of No. 248 Chenango street, Binghamton, N. Y., found herself. She says: "I was run down, had no refreshment, slept badly and was not refreshed by the sleep I did get. I was nervous and felt fatigued and restless. After dinner I would have a pain in the left of my stomach. I was subject to dizzy spells, spots would float before my eyes and sometimes it would seem to grow dark in broad daylight. I decided to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and before I had finished the first box I felt better. I continued with the pills and soon found that I slept better and I felt better when I got up in the morning. My strength and ambition have returned and I am feeling fine. I can recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills highly as a tonic to rebuild the system."

AN ADVERTISING WRITING CONTEST

One of the largest newspapers in New England recently conducted an advertisement writing contest. Thousands of replies were received.

The contest provided that the contestant should buy and drink Chelmsford Ginger Ale, or any of the ten popular flavors, manufactured by the Chelmsford Sprung company—the Ginger Ale people at Chelmsford, Massachusetts, and thereupon they would write an advertisement concerning the product. The one deemed the most worthy was awarded $500 in cash.

The board of judges comprised three of the best known advertising men and publishers in New England. Mrs. Nellie C. Elwell, Manchester, New Hampshire, who had been ill for some weeks, won this substantial money prize. It was her first attempt at advertisement writing.

The prize-winning advertisement appears in other columns of this paper.

Radio Stations Flash Medical Advice to Ships at Sea

BY ALEXANDER LIEBERMAN
NEW YORK, June 13.—Badly hurt a thousand miles at sea on a ship with no physician on board, a sailor was saved from death by expert medical advice coming from land in less than 13 minutes.

Radio did it! Before the vessel reached port, the injured man was out of danger.

And Capt. Robert Huntington of the Seaman's Church Institute recorded another success for his experiment-started two years ago.

"Less than 25 per cent. of the vessels sailing the seven seas," says the old captain, "have a doctor on board, but more than 80 per cent. of them are equipped with radio. They can ask and receive medical advice if they are instructed how and where to apply for it."

So the captain started to teach them radio operators.

He began by giving the young officers whom he trained at the institute instruction in first aid. Then he taught them how to receive the advice by radio.

Some of them soon went to sea. When they needed a doctor or two, they used KDKA—Capt. Huntington's call.

The movement grew. It became too much for the captain to handle alone, so called in the assistance of the United States public health service. More stations were established. The radio transmission was taken over by the

SMALL RADIO SET GOOD FOR 75 MILES

A "smallest set" with a claim for greater distance in receiving radio concerts, has bobbed up.

It is the product of Sterling G. Sears of New York.

With it, Sears says, he can hear a program from a station 75 miles away, and even farther.

The reason is, his set has a vacuum tube as detector—which makes it much more sensitive and powerful than the sets using a crystal as detector.

Heretofore the "smallest sets" have been made with crystal detectors.

Sears says this is the first "smallest set" of the vacuum tube type. The complete apparatus is about as large as a book.

"QUEEN OF SHEBA" COMING

"Queen of Sheba," the William Fox super-special which created a tremendous sensation during its run at a prominent Broadway, New York, theatre, will open the Metropolitan Sunday evening next Sunday for a four days run. Metropolitan critics described the picture as a marvel of beauty, color and dramatic force and as a spectacle unsurpassed in magnificence. All wrote in wonder and approval of the pageantry attending the arrival of the Queen of Sheba at King Solomon's court, and declared the chariot race cheered by 5,000 spectators to be one of the most thrilling scenes ever shown on the screen.

The Queen of Sheba was a year in the making after Virginia Tracy had written the story following a long search of volumes and documents for information regarding the world's most beautiful woman. The production was directed by J. Gordon Edwards.

Report Lenine Paralyzed Untrue

MOSCOW, June 12. (By the Associated Press)—"Lenine has not lost any of his faculties and is progressing satisfactorily," Dimitri Oulianoff, the premier's elder brother, told the correspondent today. "All rumors that he is paralyzed are absolutely untrue. He is able both to write and walk. At least two months will be required, however, for a full cure and then he will certainly need a few months of rest." M. Oulianoff attributes his brother's illness solely to overwork and his consequent nervous condition.

TO HALT MARCH OF INDIANS

Canadian Mounted Police Stationed at Park Near Leamington, Ont.

Indians Lay Claim to Land
Under Treaty With Britain
Executed in 1749

LEAMINGTON, Ont., June 13.—A detachment of Royal Canadian mounted police was stationed at the National Park at Point Pelee, seven miles from Leamington, today, prepared to halt the march of several hundred Indians who have laid claim to the park and thousands of acres of the best farming land in this part of Canada under a treaty with the British government executed in 1749.

The Dominion government, refusing to recognize the Indians' claims, instructed the mounted police to prevent any encroachment of the Indians as trespassers.

At the head of the Indian "invasion" was Archibald Dodge, 23 years of age, a member of the Potowatomi tribe, and descendant of Tecumseh, leader of Great Britain's Indian allies in the war of 1812.

COLLINS BACK IN LONDON

Arrival Expected to Mark the Sealing of a Final Understanding

Draft of Irish Constitution
Brought into Harmony
With Anglo-Irish Treaty

LONDON, June 13.—(By the Associated Press)—The equality with which both parliament and press received the postponement until Thursday of Colonial Secretary Churchill's statement on the Irish situation is taken as an indication of general confidence that the draft of the Irish constitution has been brought into harmony with the Anglo-Irish treaty.

Michael Collins' arrival in London today was expected to mark the sealing of a final understanding.

The significance of the attendance of the Southern Unionists' representatives at the colonial office yesterday is everywhere emphasized, and it is believed they were satisfied with the assurance they received as to the status of their party under the settlement.

Mr. Collins had an hour's conversation with Mr. Churchill at the colonial office during the forenoon. The colonial secretary afterward went to the cabinet meeting at which Prime Minister Lloyd George presided.

SUES THE STREET RAILWAY COMPANY

Bartholomew Dunn, a resident of Dunstable, has brought suit against the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway company in the sum of $5000 in an action of tort for alleged personal injuries and also injuries to his horse. Mr. Dunn alleges that last winter while driving through Fletcher street, his horse had a foot caught in a frog in the track of the company at the junction of Fletcher and Dutton streets and as a result the animal was injured. Mr. Dunn also claims that he was thrown out of his wagon and received personal injuries. The suit was brought through the office of Hon. James E. O'Donnell.

parachute jumping record, when he descended 21,206 feet.

The fact that it was his first "drop" tends to make his feat one of the most remarkable in the history of aviation. He suffered no ill-effects from his hazardous trip.

The plane in which he descended, a twin-motored Marlin bomber, piloted by Lieut. Leigh Wade, broke the world's altitude record for this particular type of ship, carrying three passengers when it attained a height of 24,206 feet. Sergeant Roy Langham was the third member of the party.

Captain Stevens was reluctant today to discuss details of his experience. "When the plane reached the ceiling, I made ready to jump," he said. "As near as I could judge, we were over Springfield, Ohio. Bidding my pale good-bye, I jumped."

The opening of the parachute caused the oxygen tank to become loose from its fastenings on the front of my clothing. Grasping it with both hands I endeavored to retain it.

"The wind, which was travelling at a speed of 120 miles an hour, whipped the parachute around like a jack-straw. I was forced to use both hands on the ropes and straps which held me to the chute, in an effort to check oscillation which threatened to weaken the supports. It was then that I lost the tank. I think it fell somewhere near Springfield."

"It was an experiment I shall never forget. Before settling down to a lower altitude, I thought my time had come as I was nearly suffocated due to the rareness of the atmosphere. Dropping out of the gale into calmer atmosphere, I quickly recovered, however."

"I landed at Jamestown, approximately 26 miles from where I left the plane. The descent took just 30 minutes."

Another plane picked Captain Stevens up at Jamestown and brought him back to McCook Field.

Two hours and five minutes were required to pilot the bomber to her record breaking altitude.

Mr. Cook, when he talked with a reporter would add nothing to the statement above. Mr. Allen, after he had given out his statement, would not amplify it.

Secretary Cook had left the state house for the day before he could be asked to comment on Mr. Allen's utterances.

NO CHANGE IN PRICE OF MILK

The milk dealers and producers' association met last evening in chamber of commerce headquarters to discuss the advisability of continuing the prevailing price of that commodity. As a result of the discussion, it is assumed that there will be no change in price until the first of July, at least, for the quantity of milk coming into the city is still large enough to make an increased charge unnecessary.

RADIO ENTERTAINMENT
AT THE KASINO

On Thursday evening of this week patrons of the Kasino will be given an opportunity to enjoy a radio entertainment by means of Joseph J. McCrann's new invention, the radio-violin. On Saturday evening Mr. McCrann was on the program at the broadcasting station at Medford Hillside, and many of the fans in this city pronounced his contributions among the best. The radio-violin itself is something well worth seeing and in a battle of music with Campbell's Banjo orchestra, the Kasino music purveyors, during the summer months, the results should be entertaining. The management of the Kasino expects this novel attraction to make a big hit with the dancing public as well as those interested in radio demonstrations. A competition between an up-to-date orchestra and music received by radio and amplified is hardly an ordinary attraction, and combined with the excellence of the dance surface can hardly be beaten as a real attraction.

Cincinnati, Ohio.—"I suffered for a year with nervous troubles and irregularities before I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. My back pained all the time and I was unfit for housework. I was worn out and if I cooked a meal, and was unable to do my washing. My girl friends and my sister told me if I would take your Vegetable Compound and Liver Pills I would be relieved. After taking the first bottle I felt better, and neglected it awhile, but found I could not do my work until I was stronger. So I took the Vegetable Compound again and now I am the mother of a 19 months old boy. He is at and healthy and I am sure I could ever have carried him if it had not been for your Vegetable Compound. I recommend your medicine to all women although I am young to be advising some older." — Mrs. CHRIST. PETROFF, 18 W. Liberty St., Cincinnati, Ohio.

Smith, who stated death was due to natural causes.

Patrolman Goggins performed his regular duties last evening and at 1:30 o'clock this morning, he reported at the police station to make a call.

Shortly afterwards he left for his home and that was the last time he was seen alive.

DENIES FRANCE

Jusserand Speaking at Chicago Defends Course With Respect to Reparation, Etc.

CHICAGO, June 13.—The course of France with respect to reparations, her army and her part at the arms conference, were defended by

Jules J. Jusserand, the French ambassador to the United States in an address today at the commencement exercises of University of Chicago.

The ambassador denied that France was militaristic, declared

France had been more lenient with Germany than the Germans had been with the French in 1870, and asserted that the ambitions of France in the Washington conference were "in reality modest ones and aimed only at resuming in this respect (naval power) as well as for trade, industry, agriculture, etc.,

the rank we had held before the war."

The subject of trade also was touched upon by the ambassador who gave assurances that America had nothing to fear from France in that respect, because "first, our products are not so very cheap;

second, they do not generally compete with yours, each of us conforming to our bent and obeying

our own interest follow different

cured a search warrant for 312 Market street, which used to be a lodging house, but which is now vacant.

Officers Cossette and Dwyer said that they saw the defendant go into number 312 and that they followed him in. Two bags were found on the floor. Both of them contained bottles and in one were found 12 pints of whiskey. According to the officers, the defendant pointed to the bags and said, "It's all your evidence."

Is Fined $20.

The assault and battery case was one in which Delta St. Onge accused Mike Somonoff, proprietor of a German street lodging-house in which she had an apartment, with striking her following a tussle in which she forcefully ejected him from her bedroom. Mike was found guilty by the court and ordered to pay a fine of $20. He took an appeal.

According to the testimony, the St. Onge girl lived with her sisters, Blanche Lamont and Edith Bourne, the trio occupying two apartments. On the night of June 2 the girl said that her two sisters were in the kitchen of one of the apartments the older cutting the younger's hair. Mike is alleged to have come into the room, without knocking, and asking for Delta. The girl said that, despite the fact they told Mike that Delta was in the bedroom, actually entered. Delta ordered him from the room. When he refused she forced him into the kitchen. It is said that Delta started to return to the bedroom when Mike struck her in the back. Delta admitted that she then struck Mike with a tonic bottle.

Mike denied the assault and said that when he went to the girl's apartment to order them to vacate Delta became angry and, following an argument, threw a tonic bottle at him. In making his finding the court said that in order to discharge Mike he would have to believe the girls were lying and that he didn't think such was the case.

FLAG DAY OBSERVANCE
A joint Flag day observance by the various patriotic organizations of this city will be held in Memorial hall tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock. The program will be held under the auspices of the Second Regiment of the brigade. The purpose of the meeting is to discuss the advisability of reorganizing the brigade, which went out of existence during the war. There were five local companies connected with the brigade. Gards Frontonais, Gards St. Louis, Gards d'Honneur, Gards Sacré-Cœur and the A. G. Cadets, and all but Gards Sacré-Cœur have gone out of existence.

MONTRÉAL, June 13.—Held up at the point of a revolver while walking along Ontario street about 1, Joseph Bloom of Chelsea, Mass., was robbed of $240 by two men. On his plea for money for expenses the highwaymen gave him back $50.

Bloom arrived in the city Saturday, and about 4 that afternoon made the acquaintance of a man on St. Lawrence boulevard. The two passed the afternoon and evening together, and starting up the boulevard, turned into Ontario st.

Suddenly they were confronted by two men. An order to Bloom to hand over his money was backed up by a revolver stuck in his face. He gave the men all he had, $240, but pleaded that he must have some money to get home. The highwaymen graciously returned $50. Complaint was made to the police and Detectives Brooks and Tourville are on the case.

HAD PLEASANT TRIP OVER MOHAWK TRAIL

After a pleasant trip over the Mohawk trail, General Secretary Harold E. Howe of the Lowell Y.M.C.A. and Mrs. Howe returned home Sunday. At Springfield Y.M.C.A. college, Mr. Howe attended the annual commencement exercises being an alumnus of that institution.

Frank W. Sawyer, a student at Springfield, also returned to Lowell for the summer. He was formerly a physical instructor in the local Y. On his return in the fall, Mr. Sawyer

TRY SULPHUR ON AN ECZEMA SKIN

Costs Little and Overcomes Trouble Almost Over Night

Any breaking out of the skin, even fiery, itching eczema, can be quickly overcome by applying Menthol-Sulphur, declares a noted skin specialist. Because of its germ destroying properties, this sulphur preparation instantly brings ease from skin irritation, soothes and heals the eczema right up and leaves the skin clean and smooth.

It readily fails to relieve the torment without delay. Sufferers from skin trouble should obtain a small jar of Rowles Menthol-Sulphur from any good druggist and use it like cold cream.—Adv.

The Human Terms of Tire Competition

WHY an American citizen has turned down a "job that looks like more money" in favor of a chance to do better work.

He gets called an idealist, perhaps. But when folks want to buy good merchandise and satisfactory service he's the kind of man they look for.

For practical example note the tire business.

Think back to the time when cord tires started to be talked about.

Cord construction had for its ideal a bigger service value for the car owner.

Whenever the cord principle was faithfully carried out it lived up to its original vision.

Now the makers of U. S. Royal Cords ask permission to put this on record:

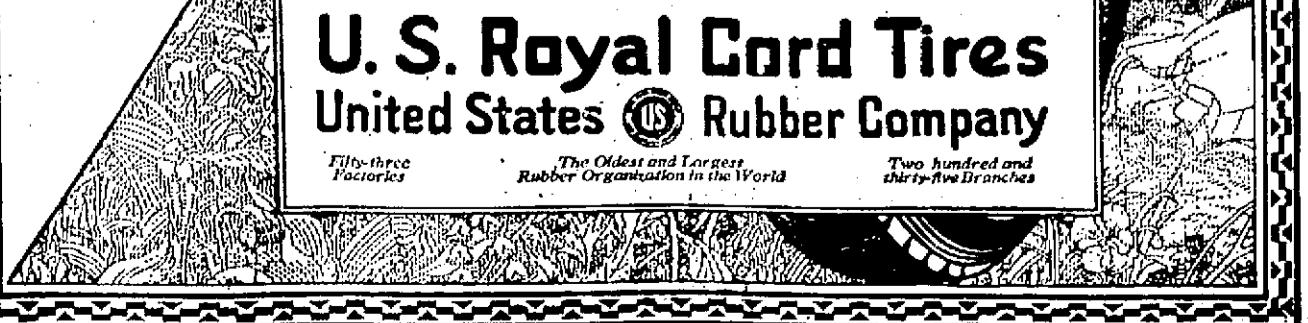

Without high integrity of manufacture the cord tire might just as well not have been discovered at all.

Respect for the fine and rigid rules of cord tire building has made U. S.

ROXBURY BOY

BLOWN FROM RAFT

BOSTON, June 13.—A 4-year-old boy lost his life as the result of the gale that swept Boston and vicinity yesterday when the stiff breeze, blew him from a raft on which he was sailing about Dudley Pond, Wayland. The young victim of the wind was

Thomas J. Hynes, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Hynes of Marcello st., Roxbury. With his mother, the boy had gone to a summer camp on the shores of the pond and went out on the raft. The stiff wind swept across the pond and kicked up a nasty "sea."

A particularly strong gust struck the clumsy craft and the little boy tumbled into the water.

The young victim of the wind was

Food that makes red blood!

Kellogg's whole-wheat KRUMBLES—with the full, enticing flavor of whole wheat for the first time—are wonderful makers of red blood, of bone, and of tissue!

Compare the red-blooded man or woman with puny, undernourished types, then you'll realize why every child should eat KRUMBLES every day to become rugged and enjoy robust health; to become physically courageous and mentally keen; to be able to go into the world READY to take a leading part!

KRUMBLES are a perfectly balanced food. They contain every vital food element! KRUMBLES counteract the effect of the denatured foods we eat—foods robbed of life-sustaining elements!

KRUMBLES eaten daily renew the strength of men and women workers and provide food that sustains the aged. All grocers sell KRUMBLES!

ASURD, NEW YORK. I tried several kinds of physic for over three years and, of course, while I took it every night my bowels would move; but as soon as I stopped taking physic, I would be constipated and would have piles terribly.

I bought one box of "Fruit-a-lives" and took them. Now I am not troubled any more with constipation or piles. "Fruit-a-lives" or "Fruit Laxo Tablets" left no after-effects and now I do not have to use physic.

WAGE CUT FOR

CONN. CARMEN

NEW HAVEN, June 13.—A wage reduction of 5.45 per cent. for the motormen and conductors employed by the Connecticut company on all its lines in the state was announced last night by the arbitration board which has had the subject under consideration. The maximum rate is ordered cut from 55 to 52 cents an hour. The intermediate rate is fixed at 45 cents and the minimum at 45 cents. The scale for operators of one-man cars is set at seven cents an hour above the regular rates.

The wages of other employees affected by the arbitration are reduced 5.4 per cent.

The award is signed by Justice John K. Beach of the state supreme court and Joseph F. Berry of Hartford, representing the company on the arbitration board. James H. Vahey of Boston, representing the trolley men, did not sign the award. He gave out a dissenting opinion in which he said he did not believe the basis used by the arbitrators in reaching their decision on wages was a correct one.

SUPERFLUOUS AUTOS

Early in the year Mayor Brown told the people of Lowell that he would keep a close watch on the city automobiles and that if he found them being used for private purposes, he would open a municipal garage in which every car used by city employees would be checked up every time it was taken out. About the same time, he expressed himself as in favor of the less expensive cars as suitable for all municipal purposes. Now, however, we find that he rides around in a seven-passenger Packard, the most expensive type of car made, and purchased a few days ago, for $2,998. How different from the car that he thought good enough early in the year and what a difference between promise and performance!

We are not discussing the merits or demerits of different cars. It is the purchase of the car to which we object, because there is no actual need of an additional automobile for the mayor's department at the present time. The Hudson coupe, which the mayor has been using, is being overhauled and will be available very soon. The seven-passenger Buick bought by former Congressman Donnelly is a "general" car and would serve the mayor very well. Then there is the seven-passenger little sedan, which needs only a coat of paint to make it a good serviceable car. It was good enough for Mayor Thompson and this or any of the other cars mentioned should be good enough for Mayor Brown. It is said that it is to be used by the public service board, which, however, calls but seldom for any car. With these four available for the mayor, why purchase a new and expensive one? The fact is, that there are too many cars in use by city officials just at present. Moreover, the expenditure for motor vehicles since January last, is over $10,000, although the cars owned by the city last year were left in fairly good condition by the outgoing government.

Mayor Brown has had much to say of economy, but in this automobile purchase, he has sanctioned extravagance such as if practised by other officials, would very soon put the city on the financial toboggan. It is certainly a bad example of economy, but it is said that this honor needs the high priced car in order to keep up the dignity of his office. It is doubtless for the same reason that he has a regular chauffeur at $5 per day with an occasional substitute always within call. If that were the only motive for the purchase of the new car it was an expensive method of upholding the city's dignity, which might be upheld in a still greater extent in various ways which cost nothing but which are nevertheless negligible.

THE POLITICAL TARIFF

The present wrangle over the tariff question in congress offers the best proof that this entire problem should be removed from the domain of partisan politics. An effort was made during the Wilson administration to have the tariff commission handle all the questions relative to necessary changes in schedules. The commission obtained a great deal of data which was helpful in fixing schedules that would meet the necessities of existing conditions without giving offence to foreign nations. It is absolutely impossible for congress without such information to frame a tariff bill that will be either pleasing or economically beneficial to this country. The republican party seems to be determined to go to the extremes of high protection and in some cases the democrats are almost as bad in seeking the opposite extreme. Neither side at the present time has the necessary data on which to base accurate tariff duties.

Already some of the foreign nations have protested against the plans for an excessive tariff as outlined in the bill before congress, but they must not be allowed to dictate the policy of this country in dealing with tariff questions. It will be time enough for them to speak when the tariff becomes law and when they see how it will affect their interests. The present legislation is intended to protect the interests of the United States rather than those of foreign nations. It is true that the interests and the good will of other nations cannot be wholly ignored; but it will be time enough to meet objections after the bill becomes law. It is a fact that at the present time this country is being flooded with goods manufactured in Germany and some other European nations; and it is also a fact that since the war we have lost the greater part of our foreign trade because the prices of our products are so high that foreign nations cannot afford to buy them. In this condition there is a problem that requires the most careful attention not only of congress but of all the people. The question is whether the tariff will put up prices and still further reduce our foreign trade. Haphazard tariff tinkering is rather dangerous business.

REPUBLICANS ALARMED

At a time when republican political bosses were laying plans for a great campaign fund for the fall elections, Chairman Andrews, on the committee on elections, has introduced a bill to regulate expenditures except at primaries so that all candidates for the senate shall be limited to an expenditure of $10,000, and members of congress to $5,000. Moreover, the bill provides that the name and address of every person contributing $100 shall be published.

That bill, in our judgment, will never pass this republican congress, for only last week, the party leaders had agreed that the $1,000 limit on contributions fixed by Will Hays in the

Today's Word

Today's word is crepuscular. It's pronounced —kruh-puhs-koo-luhr— with particular stress on the second syllable, the meaning being perfectly clear or illumindusky, dark, twilight. It's used like this— "This is the season par-

The village church has developed the necessary money in the usual manner.

Business Philosophy

A famous hotel man, who is also a philanthropist, once made a remark that would apply to almost any business.
"The greatest mistake," he declared,
"is that is commonly made by employees and manager is to exert themselves more for the comfort of an old-time customer than for a new one.

Try to all the time to satisfy and logical the person who should receive the most effort for his entertainment with-

The Brook

When I was young, when I was very young,
When I was innocent, and young, and free,
I loved. I loved a brook that sung, and sung,
A song meant but for me.

The brook was silvery, and wound its way

Through greenness to greenness, and blue.

Forget-me-nots stood there from day to day.

And there the iris grew.

The blue bushes bent their heavy heads

Over its pebbly bank to see their faces.

It was a plot of dark, cool flower-beds,
The dimmest of all places.

And it was calm and cool from dawn to evening.

A world of flowers, and dusk, and of So peaceful that its peacefulness was like

The noise of many myriad-sounding bells.

When I was young, when I was very
young,

When I was free, and young, and innocent,

The brook was ever hastening, hastening onwards

And leaving me, I know not where it went.

MRS. PELLETIER DEAD

Lowell Priests Honored

Continued

Unquestionably the splendid results attained by Rev. Fr. Murphy in North Billerica, commanded itself to the cardinal in selecting him for such an important parish in the Savin Hill section of Dorchester. His erection of a splendid church and house in North Billerica, his marvellous energy and zeal for his flock were some of the contributing causes for the splendid results he achieved in North Billerica.
It has been said that St. William's parish in Dorchester is one of the most important parishes set out by Cardinal O'Connell since coming to the diocese and that he has selected a native of Lowell for this place will please immensely.

Fr. Murphy will be succeeded in North Billerica by Rev. Dr. Charles J. Sullivan, a Lowell boy, formerly chancellor of the diocese and secretary to Cardinal O'Connell. This is Rev. Dr.
Sullivan's reward for faithful service in several important positions in the diocese and he comes to North Billerica not entirely unfamiliar with the district and also in the possession of a splendid new church and parish house.

Rev. John J. O'Hearn, a native of St. Patrick's parish, and a brother of the late Dr. Daniel O'Hearn, has been promoted to a pastorale, and assigned to a new parish recently set out in Hamilton. Rev. Fr. O'Hearn is very well known here, was assistant to Rev.
Rey. Msgr. Teeling in Lynn for years and latterly has been attached to a parish in Charlestown.

Rev. Thomas P. McManaman, another Lowell boy, now stationed at St. Margaret's church, Columbia road, Dorchester, has been placed in charge of a new parish recently set out in An-tiburndale, a very new section of the diocese. Like Fr. O'Hearn, Fr. McManaman is very well known here, as a member of one of Lowell's best known families. He has been identified with parishes in and around Boston for several years, and his promotion to a pa-storale comes to him after a service of over two decades in important parish work.

Rev. William H. Flinnick, of East Chelmsford, now stationed in Marlboro, has been advanced to a pastorale and placed in charge of the parish at East Woburn. Rev. Fr. Flinnick is the pastor of a church in Marlboro.

While the home of Fr. Flinnick is in East Chelmsford, his interests and the interests of the Flinnick family have always been associated with Lowell and the parish of the Sacred Heart.

Rev. Fr. Flinnick is one of the ablest speakers in the archdiocese and several years ago made a splendid impression in a sermon delivered at the Sacred Heart church to the Holy Name societies of the city. He is popular among all classes in Marlboro, and his promotion will be hailed with joy not only here but in the city wherein most of his priestly labors have been wrought.

Rev. Charles P. Heaney, pastor of St.
John's church, North Chelmsford, since the death of Rev. Fr. Schofield, has been made pastor of St. Joseph's church, West End, Boston, in succession to Rev. Fr. Heaney's successor at North Chelmsford.

Rev. Fr. Heaney's successor at North Chelmsford will be Rev. Francis Kenney, for years a curate at St. Margaret's church, Dorchester, with Rev. Fr. McManaman.

Rev. Fr. Heaney's pastorale in North Chelmsford has been marked by much progress indeed. He has established a Catholic mission at Chelmsford Centre and with the growth of the Gran-iteville district and the acquisition of the new mission at the Centre, had built up splendid parish. In Gran-iteville Rev. Fr. Malone, the new pastor of St. Catherine's, will find evidence of Rev. Fr. Heaney's energetic work.

Rev. Eugene A. Carney, formerly curate at St. Michael's church here, becomes pastor of a new parish in East Milton, set off from St. Gregory's, Dorchester.

Rev. James R. Nulty, who has several relatives in Lowell, has been made pastor of a new parish in East Kingston, Rev. Fr. J. Welch of St. Rose's church, Chelsea, has been made pastor of a new parish in Wellesley.

Rev. Michael J. Scanlon who becomes irreversible parson at St. Rose's church in Chelsea is exceptionally well known. He has been in charge of the church for several years and has organized that important service to its present high place. He has lived at the cathedral rectory, having previously been attached to parish service there. He has spoken in Lowell on several occasions.

In the establishment of the new parishes the Cardinal has selected senior curates mostly. In practically all cases they go to sections where churches have already been built, so that considerable of the preliminary work of organizing the parish has been attended to by the clergy attached to the parishes of which the new places were formerly missions similar to St. Cath-erine's at Graniteville, henceforth to be a separate parish under Fr. Malone.

Practically every one of the fifteen priests affected by the transfers are widely known in the diocese and have been stationed in various parishes at different times. The transfers will come effective next Monday, so that practically all of the priests affected will have the opportunity of preaching farewell sermons to the congregations they have been associated with for something next Sunday morning.

Berton Braley's Daily Poem

FUTILITY

You like to rise at six each day!
You like your coffee black and strong!
You can't eat real at all, you say,
Because it hits your system wrong!
And all the long, cold winter through,
You wear thin summer underwear!
Well, though this stuff is doubtless true,
I do not care; I do not care!

I take a cold plunge when I rise,
My breakfast's always very light,
I find that it is most unwise,
For me to eat a lunch at night;
I wear steel arches in my shoes,
I think a tonic helps my hair—
But though I state this all as news,
You do not care, you do not care!

Good Lord, the precious time we waste
Describing in minute detail
Our clothes, our food, our whims, our taste,
Until our talk grows dull and stale!
You speak of things that bore me stiff,
And then I bore you to get square—
What use is conversation if
I do not care, you do not care?

How to Play Baseball

"Stuffy" McInnis, Indians Star First Sacker, Gives Fielding Tips

JOHNNY McINNIS

Who Made Only One Error in 1921—
Cleveland Indians
A good glove perhaps is more essential to a first baseman than any other player with the possible exception of catcher.

Learn to squeeze every ball that is thrown to you.

Study your batters carefully as to where they are most likely to hit
and give consideration to their speed. Then play accordingly.

If a man is fast, hurry to the bag
on a hit to the infield, so that you can stretch to the limit thereby giving the infielder the benefit of the distance which you run.

Have your foot in front of the bag,
not on it. Then you will be in a perfect position to shift feet, if the direction of the throw demands it.

Handling Bunts
On balls thrown by the third baseman into the runner, you must learn to play them with your gloved hand if you are a right-handed first baseman.

That is one of the most difficult plays. In practice, catch as many balls as possible in the gloved hand
to perfect you in that play.

THE GRAMMAR SCHOOL LEAGUE

The Ramblers' Thirds defeated the Floyd Stars by a score of 11 to 6. The feature of the game was Gleason's pitch, which won the pennant in Division
B of the Grammar School league.

The Hustlers' challenge to the Ramblers' Seconds for a game on Sunday for a 50 cent admission, the game to be played either on the Fair grounds or the South common, if challenge is accepted, answer through this paper, or call 6337-X.

The Belviders' Pirates send in the following: In the baseball season last night, the Belviders' Emeralds and the Emeralds' Seconds defeated us. We played but one game with the Emeralds and this we won, 11 to 8. One more thing, Mr. Editor, we asked them for a second game,
but they did not accept the challenge.

The North Ends opened their season last Sunday on the North common with the Lisbon club. When the game was called in the fourth inning the North
Ends were ahead by a score of 13 to
4. A game is wanted for Sunday with either the Chelmsford A.A., the Lincolns or the Appleton Mill.

The Arrows' challenge, any 10-12 year old teams in the city for a game to be played Saturday morning for a 50 cent ball, the Diamond Sluggers preferred.

The Buckhorn Seconds defeated the Colleges last Saturday by a score of 9 to 8. The winners would like to hear from the Yankee Seconds.

The Leopard Juniors would like to challenge the Fulton Stars for a Saturday game for a 50 cent ball, the game to be played on the Lakeview avenue grounds. Call 6472-R and ask for James.

The Fawks refuse to play the Vermonts, C. because the claim that Vermont is a 16-17 year old team. The Vermonts' wish to let teams know that they have only two players 15 years old. All others are under 15. The Ver-
monts will play the Nationals Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

The Yankees defeated the Jewelets by a score of 9 to 0. If the Americans would like a return game will they please get a permit for the Oval for Saturday?

The Bunting A.A. would like to meet any fast team in the city. For games call 2142-W or 7027. The Pawfawket will be Chelmsford A.A. preferred.

The Cleairs' Warriors have the following offer in reply to an article written to this column by the Braves:
"We wish to answer the letter from the Braves which appeared in this column last Saturday. We defeated them in a fairly fought game by a score of 11 to 10. We kept an agreement within the age limit and the foul lines were explained clearly before the game. We regret exceedingly that the Braves have not taken their defeat in better manner. We know nothing of a bat, glove and a batting suit. We were uniformed for a baseball game
and not for a swimming match."

The game between the Leopard Junior Braves and the Junior Braves was called off because the former refused to play, thereby giving the victory to the

Billy Evans Tells Why Famous Racer

BY BILLY EVANS

Man o' War or Morvich? Is Morvich, the winner of the Kentucky Derby, superior to Man o' War? That question was recently put to Sam Glavin, the owner of Man o' War, who replied:

"To decide such supremacy it would necessitate racing the horses against each other. It would require actual competition. Man o' War will never return to the turf, so that method of procedure is out of the question."

"Perhaps it is a good thing for the racing game that Man o' War is retired. Discussion creates interest. The showing of Morvich as a two and three-year-old will cause many an argument as to the relative ability of the two horses."

What Expert Says

George T. Miller, the veteran starter, is another racing expert who believes that luck has come on the trail of Morvich.

"The winning of the Louisville Derby, while it was done in a most decidedly fashion, does not satisfactorily

establish Morvich as the outstanding three-year-old in the country," says Miller.

"In winning the Derby Morvich beat a very ordinary lot. There was no Bunting, Kai Sang, Olympus, Whiskaway, Pillory or any of the other crack three-year-olds trailing him."

"The test for Morvich is to come, Morvich is entered in a number of races at stake where he should meet much stronger opposition than in the Derby. If he comes home the winner in each event then he will be entitled to close comparison with the great Man o' War. Until then it is ridiculous to crown Morvich the turf king of the three-year-olds."

All the same, regardless of what experts think of Morvich, Benjamin Block, his owner, seems very well satisfied.

He laughed at a fancy offer to buy the horse and said he valued him at a half-million when asked to put a price on him.

Three of Ruth's Rivals Land

Homers — Williams Still

Leads With 15

NEW YORK, June 13.—Three of Babe Ruth's home run rivals had forged still further ahead of the Yankees' slugger today as the result of a simultaneous skirmish yesterday. Ken Williams of the St. Louis Browns cracked out his 15th circuit drive, Roger Hornsby, his National League fellow townsmen, drove out his 11th and Bing Miller of the Athletics collected his 13th.

The Cardinals went on a swatting rampage against the Philadelphia

twirlers, and tied their own major league record of 10 consecutive hits in a single inning. Trailing the Phillies

6 to 3 in the sixth, the westerners opened a barrage against Meadows and Winters that brought seven runs across the plate. Fournier began and the others followed with three runs each with a single. Altogether the Cards gathered 23 hits, five by Lavan and four each by Hornsby and Jack Smith.

The score was 14 to 8.

William's croup on one in the first inning gave St. Louis enough runs to close out the game, although the Browns

continued to pummel Joe Bush and made the count 7 to 1, while their college recruit, Pruitt, had the New York bats silenced.

the game with a sore shoulder, but

Officers and Team Captains
Meet to Hear Initial Campaign Reports

After 12 days of campaigning, a meeting of the officers and team captains of the Boy Scout drive was held last night for the purpose of hearing the initial reports, and resulted in the announcement of subscriptions amounting to $1500. The initial report was not quite as large as was anticipated, but it is felt that the balance of the $6000 which has been named as the goal will be brought in before the end of the month. The drive opened on the first of June and will close on the first of July.

That the local officers might be enabled to complete a thorough reorganization of the Scout movement locally, the sum of $600 was set as the sum which must be secured. Throughout the month of May plans were made for the garnering of this sum, and more than 20 team captains ap-

A CIVIC APPEAL

To our Fellow Citizens:

The training of the youth of our city in activities which strengthen and enlarge their mental and physical attainments is a cause worthy of your most generous support. The Boy Scout movement is organized for the betterment of the American boy, nothing else. Membership in the organization and active participation in the attractive Scout program bring to the boy opportunity for clear thinking, a broadening of his interest in civic responsibility; the formation of good habits and the induction of virtues essential to good character. In other words, let us help make our Lowell boys soft-railroad, clean, strong, frank, kind and generous. The Boy Scout organization is the great outdoor school to do all this.

Your committee, simply citizens of Lowell like yourselves, is interested in building up our boys to be many men with a broad conception of American ideals. May we ask a little of that same unselfish co-operation from you. Six thousand dollars is needed to rejuvenate the Boy Scout movement in Lowell for the next year. Will you kindly help by sending your contribution to Charles F. Langley, treasurer, 20 Hurd street?

century of service by an outing held at Pelham Inn, at which 100 or more members of the association were present.

Naturally, the event generated no little amount of good fellowship. Sports included a baseball game that was captured by a Lawrence team, captained by "Bill" Brandy. Two round boxing bouts were staged and there was a program of running races, with men from Lawrence and Lowell in competition. George Stewart, of the alumni board of control led the Lowell athletes.

A chicken dinner was not at all neglected and it was followed by most enjoyable post-prandial exercises. The principal speaker was Ben, P. W. Mahoney of Lawrence, who presented a leather brief case to Professor Olney on behalf of the alumni.

In the absence of Thomas Peal of Franklin, N. H., president of the association, William T. Brandy of Lawrence, secretary treasurer, was the presiding officer.

MATRIMONIAL

Mr. Thomas Reed and Miss Esther Kilroy were married Sunday at St. Michael's rectory by Rev. James Lynch. The witnesses were Mr. and Mrs. Walter J. "Sylpho-Nathol hasn't an objection"

"Say 'disinfectant' or 'deodorant' to the average housekeeper and she pictures a messy, sticky, hard-to-use mixture whose smell is almost as unpleasant as the odor it replaces.

Sylpho-Nathol destroys germs—they can't live where it is used, because it is 4½ times stronger than carbolic acid. Yet Sylpho-Nathol is as safe to have in the house as a cake of scouring soap. It cannot hurt your skin nor injure household things.

Sylpho-Nathol banishes bad odors for good. The objectionable smells which develop so rapidly in the best cared for homes quickly disappear, when it is used. But Sylpho-Nathol's own pleasant, friendly odor doesn't linger.

Sylpho-Nathol is easy to use. A teaspoonful in a quart of warm water makes a clean-smelling, pearly-gray solution that's ready for immediate use.

Sylpho-Nathol is a year-through, every-day necessity. In mop-water it destroys the germs that get into floor cracks and corners and can't be budged by ordinary methods. It is indispensable for keeping garbage cans clean and sweet and free from unpleasant odors and disease-causing flies.

Sylpho-Nathol is an important sanitary measure in the bathroom, for cleaning around the fixtures and as a flush for the closed bowl. When sprinkled in cellar corners, it is a sure preventive of damp, musty cellar smells.

Sylpho-Nathol is also a splendid antiseptic which should be in the medicine chest ready for cuts, burns, bruises, sprains and other home accidents, which require prompt, first-aid treatment.

Sylpho-Nathol comes in four handy sizes, 16c, 35c, 65c, $1.25. Most good grocery and druggists have it. If yours hasn't, he can get it easily. Just ask for it by the name—"Sylpho-Nathol."

WAS SERIOUSLY INJURED AT DEPOT

Walter Neo, a resident of Boston, is at St. John's Hospital, suffering from a fractured skull, as a result of a fall at the railroad station in Middletown street last evening, and his condition is considered serious. As far as could be learned Neo jumped off a moving train at the station about 11:30 o'clock and struck his head forcibly on the platform. The ambulance removed him to the hospital.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

By Theatres' Own Press Agents
MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

Wallace Reid, with his smooth wavy hair, is just as good as ever in his latest picture, "Across the Continent," now showing at the Merrimack Square theatre.

Picture of action is produced by the picture as is generally the case when handsome Wally starts flickering before the public's gaze. The story is one in which a Ford and a plow are the big part. The auto is a Ford, but for this picture its name is changed to a Deutz.

But for the story, John Dent owns the Dent auto plant, located in Michigan. For him works his son, Jimmy, and who, of course, is a Ford. And then there is beautiful Mary MacLaren, the elder Dent's private secretary, who is in love with the dashing Jimmy.

As vice president of the Dent Motor company, Jimmy is in love with his job, but not with the product it turns out, for fact Jimmy hates the sight of a Ford.

Then comes the order, son Jimmy across the street buying a $5000

Touraine car for his own private use.

The Touraine people held the transcontinental record and were very proud of the fact. And so their representatives did not hesitate to visit other cars attempting to beat the record.

After buying the car Jimmy comes back to the factory, reads his father's order, has a blowup and decides to accept an invitation to the Touraine

party for his trip to California.

The daughter of the Touraine manufacturer, who is somewhat of a flapper, accompanies Jimmy, and his father and brother on the trip.

In the meantime, the old man decides to go after a record with the Dent team. He builds a car secretly and hires

one of the country's best known race drivers to pilot the car. The car gets away to a great start, but half way across the continent it is wrecked.

The Touraine people are the agents detected doing a dirty work and the plot is exposed in the newspapers.

The news overtake the Touraine people and Jimmy who are nearing the Pacific coast. Jimmy becomes incensed at the unscrupulous act and offers

$2500 to his father to get him to return the car to the Dent.

Jimmy enters a powerful racer, drives across the street into a powerful racer.

Jimmy decides he wants to win the race himself and goes out to buy a high-powered car.

The time for the race arrives and the other cars have all brought up to the mark. With but three minutes left before the start, old Dent and his driver have an argument, following which the driver quits and refuses to start the race. The old man whips off his coat, declaring he will drive himself and takes place of his driver and abandons his great chance to win the race by giving up his powerful car to drive the Dent. For three-quarters of the way across the country the Dent led in last position. Finally a rain storm comes up and washes out roads and makes the going very tough on the big car. But the little old Dent ram right along.

With but one lap of the race to go,

Jimmy's mechanician is hurt and his father's private secretary disfigures himself as a man and takes a place beside Jimmy in the car. Now the other cars are passed on the way, the race through a tunnel just ahead of a speeding express train all go towards finishing up the picture in a thrilling manner.

"The Ordeal" is also a picture that is sure to please. It depicts the life of a negro woman who has

in order that she may provide comfort for her younger brother and invalid sister. She lives far from a happy life with her husband who is finally poisoned by an old negro servant

who realizes her mother's intentions toward his invalid sister. The husband will stipulate that his wife is to have his money only on the condition that she does not remarry.

The wife, however, is in love with a doctor friend. After taking her sister to Paris, where he is to be a doctor, she comes back to the wife

plans to marry the doctor, but changes her mind when she sees how much her brother and sister want her to keep the money.

After a time, she finds that the doctor she has given her heart to has led her to an abyss, and then one night

she finds her sister at a roadside in a drunken condition. It takes but little time for her to see that the money is the one thing that is breaking up her family, and she finally decides to give him up to it by marrying the man she loves.

THE STRAND

William Christy Cabanne has written another play, "The Stage Door," which is appearing at the Strand theatre the first three days of the week.

An unscrupulous country girl comes to the city and obtains a position as a chorus girl, a position which carries with it all kinds of temptation and suffering from which she eventually emerges wiser for her experience. The life behind the scenes, with which so few of us are acquainted, is vividly portrayed in this picture, while a great moral lesson is told by the author.

This play is headed by Lillian Blissie, who is admirably supported by such celebrities as Elizabeth

North, Willie Collier, Jr., Viva Ogden,

Charles Cragg, Huntley Gordon and Myrtle McGuire.

In "The Scrapper," the second big feature is offered. The star is no other

DR. EZRA K. SPRAGUE, OF THE U. S. MARINE HOSPITAL NEW YORK, GIVING MEDICAL ADVICE TO A SHIP AT SEA BY RADIO

BY ALEXANDER HERMAN
NEW YORK, June 13.—Badly hurt a thousand miles at sea on a ship, with a physician on board, a sailor was saved from death by expert medical advice coming from land in less than 13 minutes.

Radio did it! Before the vessel reached port, the injured man was out of danger. And Capt. Robert Huntington of the seaman's Church Institute recorded another success for his experiment started two years ago.

"Less than 25 per cent. of the vessels calling the seven seas," says the old captain, "have a doctor on board, but more than 80 per cent. of them are equipped with radio. They can ask for and receive medical advice as they are instructed how and where to apply for it."

So the captain started to teach them. Trained Operators

He began by giving the young officers whom he trained at the Institute instruction in first aid. Then he taught them how to receive the advice, by radio.

Some of them soon went to sea. When they needed a physician or two, they called in the assistance of the United States public health service. More stations were established. The radio transmission was taken over by the

SMALL RADIO SET GOOD FOR 75 MILES

A "smallest set" with a claim for greater distance in receiving radio concerts, has bobbed up. It is the product of Sterling G. Sears of New York.

With it, Sears says, he can hear a program from a station 75 miles away, and even farther.

The reason is, his set has a vacuum tube as detector—which makes it much may be placed underneath the seat in the tool box. The receiver, the amplifier and the loud speaking horn may be set upon the running board.

An antenna wire may be thrown around a tree and stretched for a distance of 15 feet or more. As a ground connection, either the body of the car, or, may be used, or a second wire may be strung along the ground for a distance of 200 feet. If a small stream is available, a wire may be tied around an old piece of metal pipe and thrown into the stream, or a longer wire may be stretched along on the bottom of the stream or pond. Under certain circumstances, the underground wires of a fence serve admirably in picking up the broadcast energies.

A few days ago a party of radio enthusiasts motored to a remote vacation country, situated some 100 miles from the nearest broadcasting station. In this case, a barbed wire fence was used as the pick-up antenna, and the ground connection was found entirely unnecessary. During the afternoon, the choirs of a Newark, N. J., and of a Philadelphia church rendered programs, while two sermons were offered.

Musical selections from a station in Tarrytown, N. Y., were picked up with considerable volume. The ocean liner "America," 40 miles at sea, was coming in with great clarity as she carried on her conversational test work with a station on the New Jersey coast.

Picture as a marvel of beauty, color and dramatic force, and as a spectacle unsurpassed in magnificence. All wrote with wondering approval of the pageant attending the arrival of the Queen of Sheba at King Solomon's court, and declared the chariot race cheered by 5,000 spectators to be one of the most thrilling scenes ever shown on the screen.

"Queen of Sheba" was a year in the making, after Virginia Tracy had written the story following a long search of volume and documents for information regarding the world's most beautiful woman. The production was directed by J. Gordon Edwards.

Report Lenin Paralyzed Untrue

MOSCOW, June 12. (By the Associated Press)—"Lenin has not lost any of his faculties and is progressing satisfactorily," Dimitri Olianoff, the premier's elder brother, told the correspondent today. "All rumors that he is paralyzed are absolutely untrue. He is able both to write and walk. At least two months will be required, however, for a full cure and then he will certainly need a few months of rest." M. Olianoff attributes his brother's illness solely to overwork and his consequent nervous condition.

Indians Lay Claim to Land
Under Treaty With Britain
Executed in 1749

LEAMINGTON, Ont., June 13.—A detachment of Royal Canadian mounted police was stationed at the National Park at Point Pelee, seven miles from Leamington, today, prepared to halt the march of several hundred Indians who have laid claim to the park and thousands of acres of the best farmland in this part of Canada under a treaty with the British government executed in 1749.

The Dominion government, refusing to recognize the Indians' claims, instructed the mounted police to prevent any encroachment of the Indians as trespassers.

At the head of the Indian "invasion" was Archie Dodge, 23 years of age, a member of the Pottawatomee tribe, and descendant of Tecumseh, leader of Great Britain's Indian allies in the war of 1812.

COLLINS BACK IN LONDON

Arrival Expected to Mark the Sealing of a Final Understanding

With Anglo-Irish Treaty

LONDON, June 13.—(By the Associated Press)—The equality with which both parliament and press received the postponement until Thursday of Colonial Secretary Churchill's statement on the Irish situation is taken as an indication of general confidence that the draft of the Irish constitution has been brought into harmony with the Anglo-Irish treaty.

Michael Collins' arrival in London today was expected to mark the sealing of final understanding.

The significance of the attendance of the Southern Unionists representatives at the colonial office yesterday is everywhere emphasized, and it is believed they were satisfied with the assurance they received as to the status of their party under the settlement.

Mr. Collins had an hours' conversation with Mr. Churchill at the colonial office during the forenoon. The colonial secretary afterward went to the cabinet meeting at which Prime Minister Lloyd George presided.

SUES THE STREET RAILWAY COMPANY

Bartholomew Dunn, a resident of Dumbarton, has brought suit against the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway company in the sum of $5000 in an action of tort for alleged personal injuries and also injuries to his horse. Mr. Dunn alleges that last winter while driving through Fletcher street, his horse had a foot caught in a trap in the tracks of the company at the junction of Fletcher and Dutton streets and as a result the animal was injured. Mr. Dunn also claims that he was thrown out of his wagon and received personal injuries. The suit was brought through the office of Hon. James E. O'Donnell.

Drops 24,206 Feet

parachute jumping record, when he descended 24,206 feet.

The fact that it was his first "drop" tends to make his feat one of the most remarkable in the history of aviation. He suffered no ill-effects from his hazardous trip.

The place in which he descended, a twin-motor Martin bomber, piloted by Lieut. Leigh Wade, broke the world's altitude record for this particular type of ship, carrying three passengers when it attained a height of 24,206 feet. Sergeant Roy Langham was the third member of the crew.

Captain Stevens was reluctant to day to discuss details of his experience. "When the plane reached the ceiling, I made ready to jump," he said. "As near as I could judge, we were over Springfield, Ohio. Bidding my pals good-bye, I jumped.

"The wind, which was traveling at a speed of 120 miles an hour, whipped the parachute around like a jackstraw. I was forced to use both hands on the ropes and straps which held me to the chute, in an effort to check oscillation which threatened to weaken the supports. It was then that I lost the tank. I think it fell somewhere near Springfield.

"It was an experiment I shall never forget. Before settling down to a lower altitude, I thought my time had come as I was nearly asphyxiated due to the rareness of the atmosphere. Dropping out of the gale into calmer atmosphere, I quickly recovered however."

I landed at Jamestown, approximately 25 miles from where I left the plane. The descent took just 30 minutes.

Another plane picked Captain Stevens up at Jamestown and brought him back to McCool Field.

Two hours and five minutes were required to pilot the bomber to her record breaking altitude.

Mr. Cook, when he talked with a reporter, would add nothing to the statement above. Mr. Allen, after he had given out his statement, would not amplify it.

Secretary Cook had left the state house for the day before he could be asked to comment on Mr. Allen's utterance.

NO CHANGE IN PRICE OF MILK

The milk dealers and producers' association met last evening in chamber of commerce headquarters to discuss the advisability of continuing the prevailing price of that commodity. As a result of the discussion, it is assured that there will be no change in price until the first of July, at least, for the quantity of milk coming into the city is still large enough to make an increased charge unnecessary.

RADIO ENTERTAINMENT AT THE KASINO

On Thursday evening of this week patrons of the Kasino will be given an opportunity to enjoy a radio entertainment by means of Joseph J. McCrann's new invention, the radio-violin. On Saturday evening Mr. McCrann was on the program at the broadcasting station at Medford Hillside, and many of the fans in that city pronounced his contributions among the best. The radio-violin itself is something well worth seeing, and in a battle of music with Campbell's Banjo orchestra, the Kasino music purveyors during the summer months, the results should be entertaining. The management of the Kasino expects this novel attraction to make a big hit with the dancing public as well as those interested in radio demonstrations. A competition between an up-to-date orchestra and music received by radio and amplified is hardly an ordinary attraction, and combined with the excellence of the dance surface can hardly be beaten as a real attraction.

Cincinnati, Ohio.—"I suffered for a year with nervous troubles and irregularities before I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. My back pained all the time and I was unfit for housework. I was worn out if I cooked a meal, and was unable to do my washing. My girl friends and my sister told me if I would take your Vegetable Compound and Liver Pills I would be relieved. After taking the first bottle I felt better, and neglected it awhile, but found I could not do my work until I was stronger. So I took the Vegetable Compound again and now I am the mother of a 19 months old boy. He is fat and healthy and I am sure I could never have carried him if it had not been for your Vegetable Compound. I recommend your medicine to all women although I am young to be advising some one older."—Mrs. CHRIST. PETROFF, 318 W. Liberty St., Cincinnati, Ohio.

Smith, who stated death was due to natural causes.

Patrolman Goggin performed his regular duties last evening and at 1:30 o'clock this morning, he reported at the police station for roll call. Shortly afterwards he left for his home, which was the last time he was seen alive. It is not known at what time he reached his home, for his wife did not hear him enter the house. At about 6 o'clock, Mrs. Goggin noticed that he was not in bed and upon investigating found him lying dead on the kitchen floor. Mr. Goggin was born in Cork, Ireland, Jan. 18, 1871, and came to this country while a young man. He was appointed to the probationary force on May 1, 1906, and on Jan. 8, 1907, he was promoted to the regular reserve force. He was made a permanent patrolman on July 8, 1909. DENIES FRANCE MILITARISTIC

More Lenient With Germany Than Germans Had Been With France in 1870

Jusserand Speaking at Chicago Defends Course With Respect to Réparation, Etc.

CHICAGO, June 13.—The course of France with respect to reparations, her army and her part at the arms conference, were defended by Jules J. Jusserand, the French ambassador to the United States in an address today at the commencement exercises of University of Chicago.

The ambassador denied that France was militaristic, declared France had been more lenient with Germany than the Germans had been with the French in 1870; and asserted that the ambitions of France in the Washington conference were "in reality modest ones and aimed only at resuming in this respect (naval power) as well as for trade, industry, agriculture, etc., the rank we had held before the war."

The subject of trade also was touched upon by the ambassador who gave assurances that America had nothing to fear from France in that respect, because "first, our products are not so very cheap;

second, they do not generally compete with yours, each of us conforming to our bent and obeying our own interest—follow different lines."

Whiskey Was in the Burlap

cured a search warrant for 312 Market street, which used to be a lodging house, but which is now vacant.

Officers Cossette and Dwyer said that they saw the defendant go into number 312 and that they followed him in. Two bags were found on the floor. Both of the contained bottles and in one were found 12 pints of whiskey. According to the officers, the defendant pointed to the bags and said, "Well, there's your evidence."

A search of the house revealed a barrel of bottles on the second floor. Defense counsel attempted to have this part of the testimony stricken out as he said it had nothing to do with the near-beer establishment. The court ruled that it would be permissible if connection between the saloon and tenement could be shown.

Officer Dwyer said that he had seen men in the saloon in a drunken condition and at the time he had warned the defendant that all of these things would count against him if he was ever brought in for liquor infractions.

The defendant replied that it was not his fault if the men wandered into his place while under the influence of liquor.

He was fined $20.

The assault and battery case was one in which Della St. Onge accused Mike Somonlon, proprietor of a Gorham street lodging-house in which she had an apartment, with striking her following a tussle in which she forcefully ejected him from her bedroom.

Mike was found guilty by the court and ordered to pay a fine of $20. He took an appeal.

According to the testimony, the St. Onge girl lived with her sisters, Elsie Lamont and Edith Bourne, the trio occupying two apartments.

On the night of June 2 the girl said that her two sisters were in the kitchen of one of the apartments the elder curling the younger's hair.

Mike is alleged to have come into the room, without knocking, and asking for Della. The girls say that, despite the fact they told Mike that Della was in the bedroom, scantly attired, he entered. Della ordered him from the room. When he refused she forced him into the kitchen. It is said that Della started to return to the bedroom when Mike struck her in the back. Della admitted that she then struck Mike with a tonic bottle.

Mike denied the assault and said that when he went to the girls' apartment to order them to vacate Della became angry and following an argument threw a tonic bottle at him. In making his finding the court said that in order to discharge Mike he would have to believe the girls were lying and that he didn't think such was the case.

DEAF, BUT SHE HEARS!

Centralville's children will have one of the popular evening street playgrounds this summer. If the hope of the chamber of commerce is realized, C. B. Garmon, a member of the chamber member and of the Centralville Improvement association, has been asked to take the matter up with the latter body and report back to the chamber relative to the best location for such a playground. Mr. Garmon has taken on the matter in charge, but no final report has been received as yet. West Fifth street is being tentatively considered as one of the best locations available.

FIRE IN FENWICK STREET
The alarm from box 114 at 10:30 o'clock this morning was for a slight blaze on the roof of an unoccupied house at 93 Fenwick street. The firemen had a little trouble in laying their lines of hose from the hydrant owing to the fact that there is a stone post very close to the hydrant. The building is owned by a Mr. Hassan, who resides in Suffolk street.

ROXBURY BOY

BLOWN FROM RAFT

BOSTON, June 13.—A 4-year-old boy lost his life as the result of the gale that swept Boston and vicinity yesterday when the stiff breeze blew him from a raft on which he was sailing about Dudley Pond, Wayland. The young victim of the wind was

Thomas J. Hynes, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Hynes of Marceline st., Roxbury. With his mother, the boy had gone to a summer camp on the shores of the pond and went out on the raft. The stiff wind swept across the pond and kicked up a nasty "sea."

A particularly strong gust struck the lumpy craft and the little boy tumbled into the water.

DOES NOT HAVE TO TAKE PHYSIC

"Fruit-a-lives" Brought Complete Relief

ASHFORD, NEW YORK. I tried several kinds of physic for over three years and, of course, while I took it every night my bowels would move; but as soon as I stopped taking physic, I would be constipated and would have piles terribly.

I bought one box of "Fruit-a-lives" and took them. Now I am not troubled any more with constipation or piles. "Fruit-a-lives" or "Fruit Laxo Tablets" left no after-effects and now I do not have to use physic!

WAGE CUT FOR CONN. CARMEN

NEW HAVEN, June 13.—A wage reduction of 5.46 per cent. for the informers and conductors employed by the Connecticut company on all its lines in the state was announced last night by the arbitration board which had the subject under consideration. The maximum rate is ordered cut from 56 to 52 cents an hour. The intermediate rate is fixed at 48 cents and the minimum at 45 cents. The scale for operators of one-man cars is set at seven cents an hour above the regular rates.

The wages of other employees affected by the arbitration are reduced 5.5 per cent.

The award is signed by Justice John K. Beach of the state supreme court and Joseph F. Berry of Hartford, representing the company on the arbitration board. James H. Valley of Boston, representing the trolley men, did not sign the award. He gave out a dissenting opinion in which he said he did not believe the basis used by the arbitrators in reaching their decision on wages was a correct one.

HOW TO MAKE EGG NOG—1922 STYLE

Prohibition has not taken all the zest out of the egg nog.

While some may demand the pre-Volstead elements that are lacking today, many of us will find the following recipe for a 1922 egg nog yields a delicious and refreshing, as well as nourishing drink.

For this recipe you need—One egg, two teaspoons sugar, one teaspoon lemon juice, one cup rich milk, few gratings nutmeg.

Beat egg well with sugar. Add lemon juice and continue beating. Add milk and pour from one glass to another several times to mix.

Grate nutmeg over the top and serve at once. A few grains of salt should be added with the sugar and two or three drops of vanilla can be added with the lemon juice.

Egg nog can be made by heating the white and yolk of the egg separately. The yolk is beaten with sugar and milk and the white beaten till stiff and dry and folded into the first mixture.

Always add a few grains of salt to any drink made of milk.

SUPERFLUOUS AUTOS

Early in the year Mayor Brown told the people of Lowell that he would keep a close watch on the city automobiles and that if he found them being used for private purposes, he would open a municipal garage in which every car used by city employees would be checked up every time it was taken out. About the same time, he expressed himself as in favor of the less expensive cars as suitable for all municipal purposes. Now, however, we find that he rides around in a seven-passenger Packard, the most expensive type of car made, and purchased a few days ago, for $2,995. How different from the car that he thought good enough early in the year and what a difference between promise and performance!

We are not discussing the merits or demerits of different cars. It is the purchase of the car to which we object, because there is no actual need of an additional automobile for the mayor's department at the present time. The Hudson coupe, which the mayor has been using, is being overhauled and will be available very soon. The seven-passenger Buick bought by former Commissioner Donnelly is a "general" car and would serve the mayor very well. Then there is the seven-passenger Buick sedan, which needs only a coat of paint to make it a good serviceable car. It was good enough for Mayor Thompson and this or any of the other cars mentioned should be good enough for Mayor Brown. It is said that it is to be used by the public service board, which, however, calls but seldom for my car. With these four available for the mayor, why purchase a new and expensive one? The fact is, that there are too many cars in use by city officials just at present. Moreover, the expenditure for motor vehicles since January last, is over $40,000, although the cars owned by the city last year were left in fairly good condition by the outgoing government.

Mayor Brown has had much to say of economy, but in this automobile purchase, he has sanctioned extravagance such as it practiced by other officials, would very soon put the city on the financial toboggan. It is certainly a bad example of economy; but it is said that His Honor needs the high priced car in order to keep up the dignity of his office. It is doubtless for the same reason that he has a regular chauffeur at $5 per day with an occasional substitute always within call. If that were the only motive for the purchase of the new car it was an expensive method of upholding the city's dignity, which might be upheld to a still greater extent in various ways which cost nothing but which are nevertheless neglected.

The present wrangle over the tariff question in congress offers the best proof that this entire problem should be removed from the domain of partisan politics. An effort was made during the Wilson administration to have the tariff commission handle all the questions relative to necessary changes in schedules. The commission obtained a great deal of data which was helpful in fixing schedules that would meet the necessities of existing conditions without giving offence to foreign nations. It is absolutely impossible for congress without such information to frame a tariff bill that will be either revenue or economically beneficial to this country. The republican party seems to be determined to go to the extremes of high protection and in some cases the democrats are almost as bad in seeking the opposite extreme. Neither side at the present time has the necessary data on which to base accurate tariff duties.

Already some of the foreign nations have protested against the plans for an excessive tariff as outlined in the bill before congress, but they must not be allowed to dictate the policy of this country in dealing with tariff questions. It will be time enough for them to speak when the tariff becomes law and when they see how it will affect their interests. The present legislation is intended to protect the interests of the United States rather than those of foreign nations. It is true that the interests and the good will of other nations cannot be wholly ignored; but it will be time enough to meet objections after the bill becomes law. It is a fact that at the present time this country is being flooded with goods manufactured in Germany and some other European nations; and it is also a fact that since we have lost the greater part of our foreign trade because the prices of our products are so high that foreign nations cannot afford to buy them. In this condition there is a problem that requires the most careful attention not only of congress but of all the people. The question is whether the tariff will put up prices and still further reduce our foreign trade. Haphazard tariff tinkering is rather dangerous business.

REPUBLICANS ALARMED

At a time when republican political bosses were laying plans for a great campaign fund for the fall elections, Chairman Andrews, on the committee on elections, has introduced a bill to regulate expenditures except for primaries so that all candidates for the senate shall be limited to an expenditure of $10,000, and members of congress to $5,000. Moreover, the bill provides that the name and address of every person contributing $100 shall be recovered on Krasnay predicts.

BLAMING PARENTS

Too many parents are shifting the responsibility of caring for their children to the church, the school and the public authorities.

You will probably agree with this statement of Theodore A. Lethrop, of the Massachusetts Society for Prevention of Cruelty of Children.

Asking what's wrong with American youth is a self-soothing way of passing the buck. There is nothing wrong with American youth. The trouble is with the parents.

SEEN AND HEARD

Cheer up. The first three months of summer are the hottest.

Jazz is popular because they can play the same piece over and over and you don't recognize it.

Several million Russians are home. Several million Americans couldn't be home less.

Presidental contest should be removed so that the sky alone would be the limit.

As a result of the panic in the republican camp, caused by the recent reverses in Pennsylvania, Indiana and Iowa, the opinion prevails that the party will have to get out and fight with all its might if it hopes to avoid defeat in the fall. The interests to be served in the tariff bill will be heavily drawn upon for contributions and their reward will be provided in the high tariff schedules which will give them a practical monopoly in their respective products.

But unless the tariff bill and perhaps a few other important measures be enacted promptly, despite their defects, the republicans will be unable to stem the tide of popular disappointment or to offset its effect in the fall elections. It is this prospect that causes Senator Lodge to declare that in spite of all obstacles the tariff bill will be passed before December.

CHAMBERS OF COMMERCE

Mr. William Trotter, formerly of this city, is now assistant manager of the Fall River chamber of commerce, and a general hustler for the promotion of chamber activities. In an address before the Letter Carriers' organization of Fall River a few days ago, he told his audience of the functions of a chamber of commerce as being for the benefit of the entire city and not for any special group, not even for the members individually or collectively. In most of the activities of every chamber of commerce, the chief benefits of its achievements are felt by the non-members quite as fully as by the members themselves.

Mr. Trotter showed that this is the case in Fall River and it is also in Lowell. Every new industry induced to come here helps all the people, and so with every public improvement, every new enterprise, every step toward better traffic facilities, and better business conditions. As Mr. Trotter shows, the best results are obtained when the chamber of commerce receives the cordial support of the public. In its efforts to promote the measure for the benefit of all the people, even when opposed by some special group.

OUR ECONOMIC PROBLEMS

Raymond Pearl, professor at Johns Hopkins university, believes that our population has passed its most rapid period of growth.

From now on, no predicts, the increase will be slower and population 100 years hence will not be more than twice what it is now.

It is futile to attempt to forecast economic problems that will bother our descendants in the year 2022, for then will differ from the present even more startlingly than 1922 differs from 1822. With twice as many people, there probably will be twice as many problems.

We have rid ourselves of most of the problems of our ancestors. For this, thank science and invention.

On the other hand, we have a maze of social and economic problems of which our ancestors never dreamed. For, in "solving" one problem, man usually creates several new ones.

Only one problem never changes—food supply. The stomach and its appetite seem immune against progress. Our economic legacy to the future should be scientific agriculture and conservation of forests, soil fertility and other natural resources.

HEAVY INSURANCE

More and more are wealthy men and companies putting their reliance and a large part of their wealth into life insurance. Hero in the Walworth Manufacturing company of Boston insuring the life of his president, Mr. Edward Connelly for $1,000,000, although he is only 45 years of age and so far as appears, is still what the insurance men would call an excellent life risk. Mr. Connelly has proven himself to be a great executive and the sum of a million might hardly recoup the company for its loss in case he should die suddenly. But the company without any such danger in prospect, protects itself against the possibilities. Mr. Connelly is like most other men in public life. He is just as liable to be smothered in by speed and to become a victim of some other form of accident as any other business man. The uncertainty of life and the possibility of sudden death follow every man, whether rich or poor, or high or low his station.

RUSSIA

Krasnay says that if Russia can get a financial grantholder, in two years she will overtake France and in five she will be back as a big factor in the export grain trade.

That will make the wheat growers of our middle west pick up their ears.

The city may be equally important to the news, but it is equally important to him. His prosperity depends on the farmer, and that in turn depends on keeping as big an export grain trade as possible. Unless Russia is relieved from the crushing regime that has paralyzed industry and transportation, she will not be able to recover on Krasnay predicts.

REPUBLICANS ALARMED

MRS. PELLETIER DEAD

Continued

Unquestionably the splendid results attained by Rev. Fr. Murphy in North Billerica, commanded itself to the cardinal in selecting him for such an important parish in the Savin Hill section of Dorchester. His erection of a splendid church and house in North Billerica, his marvelous energy and zeal for his flock were some of the contributing causes for the splendid results he achieved in North Billerica. It has been said that St. William's parish in Dorchester is one of the most important parishes set out by Cardinal O'Connell since coming to the diocese and that he has selected a native of Lowell for this place will please immensely.

Fr. Murphy will be succeeded in North Billerica by Rev. Dr. Charles J. Sullivan, a Lowell boy, formerly chancellor of the diocese and secretary to Cardinal O'Connell. This is Rev. Dr. Sullivan's reward for faithful service in several important positions in the diocese and he comes to North Billerica not entirely unfamiliar with the district and also in the possession of a splendid new church and parish house.

Rev. John J. O'Hearn, a native of St. Patrick's parish, and a brother of the late Dr. Daniel O'Hearn, has been promoted to a pastorate and assigned to a new parish recently set out in Hamilton. Rev. Fr. O'Hearn is very well known here, was assistant to Rt. Rev. Msgr. Teeling in Lynn for years and latterly has been attached to a parish in Charlestown.

Rev. Thomas P. McMannion, another Lowell boy, now stationed at St. Margaret's church, Columbia road, Dorchester, has been placed in charge of a new parish recently set apart in Auburndale, a very fine section of the diocese. Like Fr. O'Hearn, Fr. McMannion is very well known here, as a member of one of Lowell's best known families. He has been identified with parishes in and around Boston for several years, and his promotion to a pastorate comes to him after a service of over two decades in important parish work.

Rev. William H. Finnick, of East Chelmsford, now stationed in Marlboro, has been advanced to a pastorate and placed in charge of the parish at East Woburn, made vacant by the transfer of Rev. Fr. Riordan to the pastorate of a church in Marbhead.

While the home of Fr. Finnick is in East Chelmsford, his interests and the interests of the Finnicks have always been associated with Lowell and the parish of the Sacred Heart. Rev. Fr. Finnick is one of the ablest speakers in the archdiocese and several years ago made a splendid impression in a sermon delivered at the Sacred Heart church to the Holy Name societies of the city. He is popular among all classes in Marlboro, and his promotion will be hailed with joy not only here but in the city wherein most of his priestly labors have been wrought.

Rev. Charles P. Heaney, pastor of St. John's church, North Chelmsford, since the death of Rev. Fr. Schofield, has been made pastor of St. Joseph's church, West End, Boston, in succession to Rev. Fr. Maley who goes to Lynn to take the place made vacant by the death of Rev. Edward Delan. Rev. Fr. Heaney's successor at No. Chelmsford will be Rev. Francis Kenney, for years curate at St. Margaret's church, Dorchester, with Rev. Fr. McMannion. Rev. Fr. Henney has been marked by much progress indeed. He has established a Catholic mission at Chelmsford Center and with the growth of the Granville district and the acquisition of the new mission at the Center, had built up a splendid parish. In Granville Rev. Fr. Malone, the new pastor of St. Catherine's, will find evidence of Rev. Fr. Heaney's energetic work.

Yesterday was not a very good day to get accustomed to writing. It also does it to great many us a long time to become acquainted with daylight-saving time as applied to railroad schedules. The schedule published in the local papers is according to our daylight saving time which means one hour ahead of railroad time. For instance, when we wish to take a train for Boston at 4 o'clock, the clock on the depot will point to 3 o'clock and so on throughout the day.

Just as it takes some people a long time to get accustomed to writing, it also does it to great many us a long time to become acquainted with daylight-saving time as applied to railroad schedules. The schedule published in the local papers is according to our daylight saving time which means one hour ahead of railroad time.

Yesterday was not a very good day to get the straw hat. At times when the wind took on the proportions of a miniature blizzard, old King Straw took himself on an A.W.O.L. much to the discomfiture of the erstwhile wearer. While standing in Merrimack street about noon, I was awakened from my lethargy by a sudden contact of something behind my ear. I turned abruptly to see that the offender was a straw hat, apparently new, volplaning now in the air and now running hoop-like along Merrimack square. Mr. Owner made a valiant attempt to regain his elusive head-piece, but alas, an unassuming fellow finished his short-lived career. Doubtless there were other similar cases throughout the city.

Timothy D. Finnegan, the well known dog-fancier, of 22 Agawam, seems to be making quite a reputation with his prize winners. During the past few weeks his collies have captured many prizes, both ribbons and cash. At the dog show, held by the Lowell Kennel club on Memorial day, Mr. Finnegan's dogs took down the list of the best prizes. The same resulted in a dog show in Lawrence. The latest achievement of Mr. Finnegan's dogs is the winning of a number of prizes at the Aulterville show held recently in that place. Quite a record for one season.

Honolulu has one of the finest and most efficient telephone systems in the world.

Practically every one of the fifteen priests affected by the transfers are widely known in the diocese and have been stationed in various parishes at different times. The transfers will be effective next Monday, so that practically all of the priests affected will have the opportunity of preaching farewell sermons to the congregations they have been associated with for something next Sunday morning.

Berton Braley's Daily Poem

FUTILITY

You like to rise at six each day!
You like your coffee black and strong!
You can't eat veal at all, you say.
Because it hits your system wrong!
And all the long, cold winter through!
You wear thin summer underwear!
Well, though this stuff is doubtless true,
I do not care; I do not care!

I take a cold plunge when I rise,
My breakfast's always very light,
I find that it's most unwise,
For me to eat a lunch at night;
I wear steel arches in my shoes,
I think a tonic helps my hair—
But though I state this all as news,
You do not care, you do not care!

Good Lord, the precious time we waste
Describing in minute detail
Our clothes, our food, our whims, our taste,
Until our talk grows dull and stale!
You speak of things that bore me stiff
And then I bore you to get square—
What use is conversation if
I do not care, you do not care!

"Stuffy" McInnis, Indians Star First Sacker, Gives Fielding Tip

JOHNNY McINNIS

Who Made Only One Error in 1921—

Cleveland Indians

A good glove, perhaps, is more essential to the first baseman than any other player, with the possible exception of catcher.

Prize such a glove, take the best of care of it, and do not permit any one else to use it.

Every one catches a ball differ-ently, and such use changes the pocket which you have worn into the glove to conform to your style.

Learn to squeeze every ball that is thrown to you.

Study your batters carefully as to

where they are most likely to hit,

and give consideration to their

speed. Then play accordingly.

If a man is fast, hurry to the bag

on a hit in the field, so that you can strike the ball before it reaches the infielder the benefit of the distance which you gain. It may mean the decision in your favor.

Have your foot in front of the bag,

not on it. Then you will be in a perfect position to shift feet, if the direction of the throw demands it.

Handling Bunts

On balls thrown by the third base-

man into the runner, you must learn

to play them with your gloved hand,

man.

plays. In practice, catch as many

balls as possible in the gloved hand

to perfect you in that play.

AMATEUR BASEBALL

The Rambler Thirds defeated the Play Stars by a score of 11 to 0.

The Rambler Thirds was Gibson's pitching. The Play Stars liked to hear from 11-12 year old teams for games in this city.

The Hustlers challenge the Rambler Seconds to a game for Sunday for 50 cent ball a side, the game to be played either on the Fair grounds or the South common. It challenge is accepted, answer through this paper, or

The Belvidere Pirates send in the following: In the baseball column last night it was stated that the Emeralds defeated us. We played but one game with the Emeralds and this we won 11 to 8. One more thing, Mr. Miller. We asked them for a second game

but they did not accept the challenge."

The North Ends opened their season

on Sunday on the North common with the Lisbon club. When the game was called in the fourth inning the North

Ends were ahead by a score of 12 to

1. A game is wanted for Sunday with

either the Chelmsford A.A., the Lin-

cols or the Appleton Mill.

The Arrowheads, July 10-12

and 13, will play in the city for a game

5 cent ball. The Diamond Sluggers promised.

The Buckhorns Seconds defeated the Tolgates last Saturday with a score of 9 to 8. The Tolgates would like to hear from the Yankee Seconds.

The Leopard Juniors would like to

challenge the Fulton Stars for a Saturday game for a 25 cent ball. The game to be played on the Lakeside village grounds. Call 5172-R and ask for James.

The Yankees refuse to play the Vermont A.A. because they claim that team is a 16-17 year old team. The Yankees would like to have a game

but they have only two players 16 years old. All others are under 15. The Ver-

monts will play the Nationals Satur-

day afternoon at 2 o'clock.

The Yankees defeated the Jewettis yesterday 10 to 0. The Americans would like a return game with their lease get a permit for the Oval for Saturday.

The Bunting A.A. would like to meet

the last team in the city. For games

11, 12, 13, or 1027. The Pawtucket

Jews or Chelmsford A.A. preferred.

The Claire Warriors have the following to offer in reply to an article in the paper by the Braves.

We will to the letter the letter from the Braves which appeared in this column last Saturday. We defeated

score of 11 to 10. We kept all agreements. Every player on our team was within the safe limits and the foul lines and the home run line, except the time. We regret exceedingly that the Braves have not taken their defeat in

bet, a glove and a baseball suit. We were uniformed for a baseball game

and not for a swimming match.

The game between the Leopard Junior and the Junior Braves was call-off because the former refused to

BY BILLY EVANS

Man o' War or Morvich?

Is Morvich, the winner of the Kentucky derby, superior to Man o' War?

Sam Miller, the owner of Man o' War, who replied:

"I do not consider such supremacy

as that to be possible.

It would necessitate racing the horses against each other.

It would require actual competition.

Man o' War will never return to the turf, so that method of procedure is out of the question."

"Perhaps it is a good thing for the racing game that Man o' War is retired. Discussion creates interest.

The showing of Morvich as a two and three-year-old will cause many an argument as to the relative ability of the two horses.

What Expert Says

George E. Miller, the veteran starter, is another racing expert who believes that luck has come on the horse.

"While recognizing the great worth of Morvich I feel that Man o' War is the superior horse by a considerable margin. Possibly Mr. Block, who owns Man o' War, is entitled to his opinion."

Meet to Hear Initial Campaign Reports

After 12 days of campaigning, a meeting of the officers and team captains of the Boy Scout drive was held last night for the purpose of hearing the initial reports, and resulted in the announcement of subscriptions amounting to $1500. The initial report was not quite as large as was anticipated, but it is felt that the balance of the $6000 which has been named as the goal will be brought in before the end of the month. The drive opened on the first of June and will close on the first of July.

That the local officers might be enabled to complete a thorough reorganization of the Scout movement locally, the sum of $6000 was set as the sum which must be secured. Throughout the month of May plans were made for the garnering of this sum, and more than 20 team captains ap-

A CIVIC APPEAL

To our Fellow Citizens:

The training of the youth of our city in activities which strengthen and enlarge their mental and physical attainments is a cause worthy of your most generous support. The Boy Scout movement is organized for the betterment of the American boy, nothing else. Membership in the organization and active participation in the attractive scout program bring to the boy opportunity for clear thinking; a broadening of his interest in civic responsibility; the formation of good habits and the inculcation of virtues essential to good character. In other words, let us help make our Lowell boys self-reliant, clean, strong, frank, kind and generous. The Boy Scout organization is the great outdoor school to do all this.

Your committee, simply citizens of Lowell like yourselves, is interested in building up our boys to be many men with a broad conception of American ideals. May we ask a little of that same unselfish co-operation from you. Six thousand dollars is needed to rejuvenate the Boy Scout movement in Lowell for the next year. Will you kindly help by sending your contribution to Charles F. Langley, treasurer, 20 Hurst street?

pointed to cover all section of the city as well as the industrial enterprises. Last night was the first report meeting.

The meeting was called to order by President C. D. A. Grasse, with Benjamin S. Fouzzner acting as temporary secretary. In the absence of Frank D. Proctor, he was present as witness. After greeting business had been transacted the team captains reported as follows:

Dr. John H. Lambert, 1400

A number of the team captains were without reports, but are expected to make a good showing by the next meeting. Those captains not mentioned in the above list are: J. L. Hilton, J. D. Willard Ryan, Rev. Karl P. Melster, Gerrick Davis, Frank D. Proctor, Morley W. Cook, Pearl T. Dubois, Edward F. Saunders, A. Gordon Foster, E. J. Conroy, E. T. Doherty, C. F. Emerson, John J. Walsh, Frank Richard, G. W. Neville, T. J. Faulkner and Malcolm F. Fryer.

The meeting suspended its business session after the reading of reports, and listened to an excellent and interesting story relative to the prospects of a strong Scout organization in Lowell, by R. N. Petty, New England Scout executive. He compared the work here with that done in such cities as Quincy, Malden, Norwell, Conn., Bridgeport, Conn., New London, Conn., Manchester, N. H., Bangor, Me., Portland, Me., and Burlington, Vt. In these cities, the quotas being much the same as Lowell, many over-subscriptions have occurred.

It is said that a well-built chimney 100 feet high will stand from three to four inches in high wind without danger of falling.

The death rate from motor vehicle accidents is higher in Los Angeles than in any other western city.

Prof. Louis A. Olney Honored
by Alumni Members From
Lowell and Lawrence

For the past 25 years Professor Louis A. Olney has been connected with the chemistry department of the Lowell Textile school. On last Saturday members of the Olney chemical alumni of the evening school appropriately marked the completion of this quarter-century of service by an outing held at Pelham Inn, at which 100 or more members of the association were present.

Naturally, the event generated no little amount of good fellowship. Sports included a baseball game that was captured by a Lawrence team, captained by "Bill" Brandy. Two six-round boxing bouts were staged and there was a program of running races, with men from Lawrence and Lowell in competition. George Stewart, of the alumni board of control led the Lowell athletes.

A dinner was not at all neglected and it was followed by most enjoyable post-prandial exercises. The principal speaker was Hon. P. W. Matheson of Lawrence, who presented a leather brief case to Professor Olney on behalf of the alumni.

In the absence of Thomas Peet of Franklin, N. H., president of the association, William T. Brandy of Lawrence, secretary treasurer, was the presiding officer.

Mr. Conrad Paquin and Miss Marie Anne Toupin were married Sunday at St. Joseph's rectory by Rev. L. A. Nolin, O.M.I. The witnesses were Messrs. Abram Rondeau and Arthur Tonquin.

Provancher—Bauer

At 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon Mr. Blaine J. Bauer and Miss Annie Anna Provancher were united in the bonds of matrimony at the ceremony being performed at St. Joseph's rectory by Rev. F. Nolin, O.M.I. The witnesses were Messrs. J. Daners and Pierre Provancher, fathers respectively of the groom and bride. The couple will make their home in the same as Lowell, many over-subscriptions have occurred.

Following these remarks the meeting laid plans for the conduct of the remainder of the campaign, and adjourned to meet in the chamber of commerce next Monday evening.

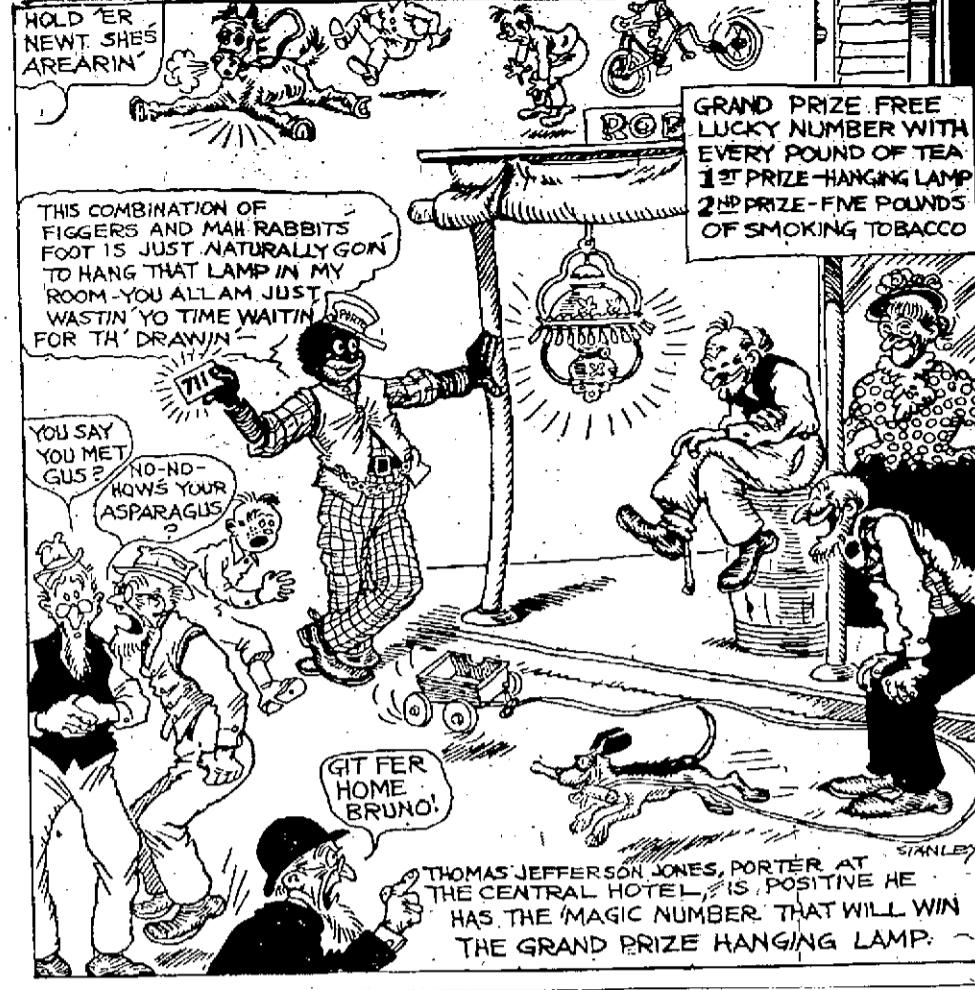

It is said that a well-built chimney 100 feet high will stand from three to four inches in high wind without danger of falling.

The death rate from motor vehicle accidents is higher in Los Angeles than in any other western city.

Many Lowell Priests Included In Transfers Just Announced By Cardinal O'Connell

REV. WM. H. FINNICK

REV. THOMAS P. McMANAMON

REV. JOHN J. O'HEARN

REV. EUGENE A. CARNEY

In the one of largest transfers among the Catholic clergy of the Boston diocese, just announced by Cardinal O'Connell, Lowell priests, and priests well known here have been singularly honored and the news of their promotion will be gratifying indeed to their friends here. Rarely, perhaps, in the history of the archdiocese, have so many sons of Lowell been favored at the same time, as the announcement indicates, and while the other, promotions have not come to Lowell men several of them are very well known here through their identification with local parishes and hence the news has a local interest. Six new parishes have been established in the archdiocese, one in the Graniteville section of Westford, heretofore presided over by Rev. Charles P. Heaney as pastor. The new pastor of the parish is Rev. Aloysius S. Malone, who while a native of New York, spent many years here before he entered college. He comes to Graniteville after a meritorious service in Arlington and several places in the diocese. Fr. Malone is a cousin of Bishop Allen, of Mobile, Ala., and is a splendid pulpit orator. Rev. David J. Murphy, pastor of St. Andrew's church, North Billerica, has been promoted to the important parish of St. William's, in Dorchester. This is regarded as one of the finest parishes in the diocese and as Rev. Fr. Murphy was stationed in St. Leo's church, in Dorchester, for years, he will be at home at least in that section.

This was enlarged by Jonathan Tyler, great grandfather of the present Stevens family. Further renovation and enlargement occurred about 30 years ago. It is reported that the building is to be transformed into a high school for girls to be conducted by the Oberlin Sisters.

The house is assessed for $11,000, the barn for $1600 and the land for $6000, making a total of $18,600. The purchase price has not been given out.

The court will enter an order, probably tomorrow, granting the petition of the companies for a temporary injunction against picketing. The injunction will be even more drastic than the re-

"Sylpho-Nathol hasn't an objection"

"Soy 'disinfectant' or 'deodorant' to the average housekeeper and she pictures a messy, sticky, hard-to-use mixture whose smell is almost as unpleasant as the odor it replaces.

"That's why housekeepers are so delighted to find in Sylpho-Nathol an effective preparation that hasn't one of these objections."

Sylpho-Nathol destroys germs—they can't live where it is used, because it is 4½ times stronger than carbolic acid. Yet Sylpho-Nathol is as safe to have in the house as a can of scouring soap. It cannot hurt your skin nor injure household things.

Sylpho-Nathol banishes bad odors for good. The objectionable smells which develop so rapidly in the best cared for homes quickly disappear, when it is used. But Sylpho-Nathol's own pleasant, friendly odor doesn't linger.

Sylpho-Nathol is easy to use. A teaspoonful in a quart of warm water makes a clean, shiny, pearly-gray solution that's ready for immediate use.

Sylpho-Nathol is year-through, every-day necessity. In mop-water it destroys the germs that get into floor cracks and corners and can't be budged by ordinary methods. It is indispensable for keeping garbage cans clean and sweet and free from unpleasant odors and disease-carrying flies.

Sylpho-Nathol is an important sanitary measure in the bathroom, for cleaning around the fixtures and as a flush for the closed bowl. When sprinkled in cellar corners, it is a sure preventive of damp, musty cellar smells.

Sylpho-Nathol is also a splendid antiseptic which should be in the medicine chest ready for cuts, burns, bruises, sprains and other home accidents, which require prompt, first-aid treatment.

WAS SERIOUSLY INJURED AT DEPOT

Walter Neo, a resident of Boston, is at St. John's hospital, suffering from a fractured skull as a result of a fall at the railroad station in Middlesex street last evening, and his condition is considered serious. As far as could be learned, Neo jumped off a moving train at the station about 11:30 o'clock and struck his head forcibly on the platform. The ambulance removed him to the hospital.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

By Theatres' Own Press Agents
MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE
Walter Held, with his smooth ways and oily hair, is just as good as ever in his latest picture, "Across the Continent," now showing at the Merrimack Square theatre.

Plenty of action is produced by the picture as is generally the case when handsome Held plays his dickerin' do's in public gaze. The story is one in which a Ford auto plays the big part. The auto is a Ford, but for this picture its name is changed to a Dent.

But for the story, John Dent owns the Dent auto plant, located in Michigan. For him works his son, Jimmy, who, of course, is in Wally Held. And there is beautiful Mary MacLaren, the elder Dent's private secretary, who is in love with the dashing Jimmy.

As vice president of the Dent Motor Company, Jimmy is in love with the job, but not with the product it turns out. In fact Jimmy hates the sight of a Dent car, and as for riding in one, he much prefers to walk.

The father, however, is in the order to all employees of the Dent company that they must ride in Dent cars if they were to own any. Just about the time old Dent issues the order, son Jimmy is across the street, buying a $50 Touloune car for his private use.

The Touloune people held the trans-continental record and were very proud of the fact. Also they and their representatives did not hesitate to wreck other cars attempting to break the record.

After buying the car Jimmy comes back to the factory, reads his father's order, has a blowup, and decides to accept an invitation of the Touloune people for a trip to California. The daughter of the Touloune manufacturer, who is somewhat of a dapper companion to Jimmy, and her father are deleted during the dirty work and the plot is exposed in the newspapers.

The news overtakes the Touloune people and Jimmy, who are needing funds, are forced to sell the car to the Touloune people.

The old man decides to go after the record with the Dent car. He builds a car secretly and hires one of the country's best known race drivers to pilot the car. The old man goes away to a great start, but his car is wrecked by the Touloune agents. The agents are deleted during the dirty work and the plot is exposed in the newspapers.

Radio Stations Flash Medical Advice to Ships at Sea

DR. EZRA K. SPRAGUE, OF THE U. S. MARINE HOSPITAL, NEW YORK, GIVING MEDICAL ADVICE TO A SHIP AT SEA BY RADIO

BY ALEXANDER HERMAN
NEW YORK, June 13.—Badly hurt a thousand miles at sea on a ship without a physician on board, a sailor was saved from death by expert medical advice coming from land in less than 13 minutes.

Radio did it!
Before the vessel reached port, the injured man was out of danger.

And Capt. Robert Huntington of the Seaman's Church Institute recorded another success for his experiment starting two years ago.

"Less than 25 per cent. of the vessels sailing the seven seas," says the old captain, "have doctor on board, but more than 80 per cent. of them are equipped with radio. They can ask or receive medical advice if they are instructed how and where to apply for it."

So the captain started to teach them trained operators

He began by giving the young officers whom he trained at the Institute instruction in first aid. Then he taught them how to receive the advice by radio.

Some of them soon went to sea. When they needed a pointer or two, they asked KDKA—Capt. Huntington's call.

The movement grew. It became too much for the captain to handle alone.

He called in the assistance of the United States public health service. More guidance of the call. It is a simple mission was taken over by the mists of finer tuning.

Someone is ill. The master explains the symptoms. The operator at the receiving station relay them to the U. S. Marine hospital in the district.

In New York, Dr. Ezra K. Sprague or one of his assistants gives the advice.

A few minutes later it is flashed back to the ship.

When operations are necessary arrangements are made for the transfer of the patient to a ship with the proper facilities.

Last June a passenger suffering from appendicitis was taken from the steamship Indiana and operated on in the hospital ward of the packet Orbis.

SMALL RADIO SET GOOD FOR 75 MILES

A "smallest set" with a claim for greater distance in receiving radio concerts, has bobbed up.

It is the product of Sterling G. Sears of New York.

With it, Sears says, he can hear a program from a station 75 miles away, and even farther.

The reason is, his set has a vacuum tube as detector—which makes it much more sensitive and powerful than the sets using a crystal as detector.

Heretofore the "smallest sets" have been made with crystal detectors.

Sears says his is the first "smallest set" of the vacuum tube type.

The complete apparatus is about as large as a book.

With this set, Sears won first prize at the radio show held recently in New York.

THE WHOLE FAMILY CAN LISTEN IN

When the amateur radio-its first installs his set, he usually employs single pair of receivers. This is enjoyable to the individual alone and has its own fascination, but is incapable of amusing a large audience.

To offset this difficulty Mr. Arthur T.

Lawrence, of Shunson street has aranged for an audion amplifier set to displace the present crystal set now in use. The family of Mr. Lawrence is enthusiastic over the change as each member is a confessed radio fan.

With the new device the whole family will be able to "listen in" to the various concerts and speeches which are broadcasted regularly.

Report Lenine Paralyzed Untrue

MOSCOW, June 12. (By the Associated Press)—"Lenine has not lost any of his faculties and is progressing satisfactorily," Dimitri Oulianoff, the premier's elder brother, told the correspondent today. "All rumors that he is paralyzed are absolutely untrue. He is able both to write and walk. At least two months will be required, however, for a full cure and then he will certainly need a few months of rest." M. Oulianoff attributes his brother's illness solely to overwork and his consequent nervous condition.

Indians Lay Claim to Land
Under Treaty With Britain
Executed in 1749

LEAMINGTON, Ont., June 13.—A detachment of Royal Canadian mounted police was stationed at the National Park at Point Pelee, seven miles from Leamington, today, prepared to halt the march of several hundred Indians who have laid claim to the park and thousands of acres of the best farming land in this part of Canada under a treaty with the British government executed in 1749.

The Dominion government, refusing to recognize the Indians' claims, instructed the mounted police to prevent any encroachment of the Indians as trespassers.

At the head of the Indian "Invasion" was Archie Dodge, 23 years of age, a member of the Pottowatamie tribe, and descendant of Tecumseh, leader of Great Britain's Indian allies in the war of 1812.

COLLINS BACK IN LONDON

Arrival Expected to Mark the Sealing of a Final Understanding

Draft of Irish Constitution
With Anglo-Irish Treaty

LONDON, June 13.—(By the Associated Press)—The equality with which both parliament and press received the postponement until Thursday of Colonial Secretary Churchill's statement on the Irish situation is taken as an indication of general confidence that the draft of the Irish constitution has been brought into harmony with the Anglo-Irish treaty.

Michael Collins' arrival in London today was expected to mark the sealing of a final understanding.

The significance of the attendance of the Southern Unionists representatives at the colonial office yesterday is everywhere emphasized, and it is believed they were satisfied with the assurance they received as to the status of their party under the settlement.

Mr. Collins had an hour's conversation with Mr. Churchill at the colonial office during the forenoon. The colonial secretary afterward went to the cabinet meeting at which Prime Minister Lloyd George presided.

Bartholomew Dunn, a resident of Dunstable, has brought suit against the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway company in the sum of $5,000 in an action of tort for alleged personal injuries and also injuries to his horse. Mr. Dunn alleged that last winter while driving through Fletcher street, his horse had a foot caught in a frog in the tracks of the company at the junction of Fletcher and Dalton streets and as a result the animal was injured. Mr. Dunn also claims that he was thrown out of his wagon and received personal injuries. The suit was brought through the office of Hon. James E. O'Donnell.

parachute jumping record, when he descended 24,206 feet.

The fact that it was his first "drop" tends to make his feat one of the most remarkable in the history of aviation. He suffered no ill-effects from his hazardous trip.

The plane in which he descended, a twin-motored Martin bomber, piloted by Lieut. Leigh Wade, had the world's altitude record for this particular type of ship, carrying three passengers when it attained a height of 24,206 feet. Sergeant Roy Langham was the third member of the party.

Captain Steven was reluctant today to discuss details of his experience. "When the plane reached the ceiling, I made ready to jump," he said. "As near as I could judge, we were over Springfield, Ohio. Bidding my pals good-bye, I jumped."

"The opening of the parachute caused the oxygen tank to become loose from its fastenings on the front of my clothing. Grasping it with both hands I endeavored to retain it.

"The wind, which was travelling at speed of 120 miles an hour, whirled the parachute around like a jackstraw. I was forced to use both hands on the ropes and straps which held me to the chute. In an effort to check oscillation which threatened to weaken the supports. It was then that I lost the tank. I think it fell somewhere near Springfield."

"It was an experience I shall never forget. Before settling down to a lower altitude, I thought my time had come as I was nearly suffocated due to the thickness of the atmosphere. Dropping out of the gale into calmer atmosphere, I quickly recovered, though I lost the tank. The descent took just 30 minutes."

Another plane picked Captain Steven up at Jamestown and brought him back to McGook field.

Two hours and five minutes were required to pilot the bomber to her record breaking altitude.

ALLEN DENIES ASKING NOMINATION PAPERS

BOSTON, June 13.—"I have done nothing yet in the matter of asking out nomination papers or of announcing my candidacy," declared Atty. Gen. J. Weston Allen late yesterday afternoon.

Mr. Allen's statement was made after his attention had been called to the following, given out to the newspapers by Secretary of State Frederic W. Cook.

"Application has been made in the interest of Atty. Gen. J. Weston Allen for nomination papers as republican candidate for governor. The papers are being prepared."

Mr. Cook, when he talked with a reporter, would add nothing to the statement above. Mr. Allen, after he had given out his statement, would not amplify it.

Secretary Cook had left the state house for the day before he could be asked to comment on Mr. Allen's utterances.

NO CHANGE IN PRICE OF MILK

The milk dealers and producers' association met last evening in chamber of commerce headquarters to discuss the advisability of continuing the prevailing price of that commodity. As a result of the discussion, it is assured that there will be no change in price until the first of July, at least, for the quantity of milk coming into the city is still large enough to make an increased charge unnecessary.

Probe Ferris Wheel Disaster

The Bronx grand jury has started an investigation of the wreck of the ferris wheel at Clason's Point, which killed seven and seriously injured 40 persons.

The property damage resulting from the twisting winds runs into the millions.

Freak stunts of the storm constantly appear. A foot from a church in Yonkers was lifted off the edifice by the gusts of wind and dropped into the street upon a passing automobile containing five people. Rescuers tore away the timbers and found that none were hurt.

A man walking down a street in the Bronx had his hat lifted and whirled out of sight as he struggled to hang onto an iron police alarm post. When he finally reached his home, three blocks away, he found his battered headgear resting on a chair in his living room. It apparently had been blown through a window which had been blown in by the gale.

LOWELL SOCIAL SERVICE LEAGUE

The Lowell Social Service League, located at 81 Merrimack street since 1916, has removed to the Fairburn building in Merrimack Square, rooms 806 and 807. Because of the conditions of unemployment in this city and the ever increasing demands on the league, the present quarters were deemed inadequate. The office hours in the Fairburn building will be the same as at present, 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. with the exception of Saturday, when business will cease at 12 o'clock noon.

RADIO ENTERTAINMENT AT THE KASINO

On Thursday evening of this week patrons of the Kasino will be given an opportunity to enjoy a radio entertainment by means of Joseph J. McCrann's new invention, the radio-violin. On Saturday evening Mr. McCrann was on the program at the broadcasting station at Medford Hillside, and many of the fans in this city pronounced his contributions among the best. The radio-violin itself is something well worth seeing, and in a battle of music, with Campbell's Banjo orchestra, the Kasino music purveyors during the summer months, the results should be entertaining. The management of the Kasino expects this novel attraction to make a big hit with the dancing public as well as those interested in radio demonstrations. A competition between an up-to-date orchestra and music received by radio and amplified is hardly an ordinary attraction, and combined with the excellence of the dance surface can hardly be beaten as a real attraction.

Read the Result

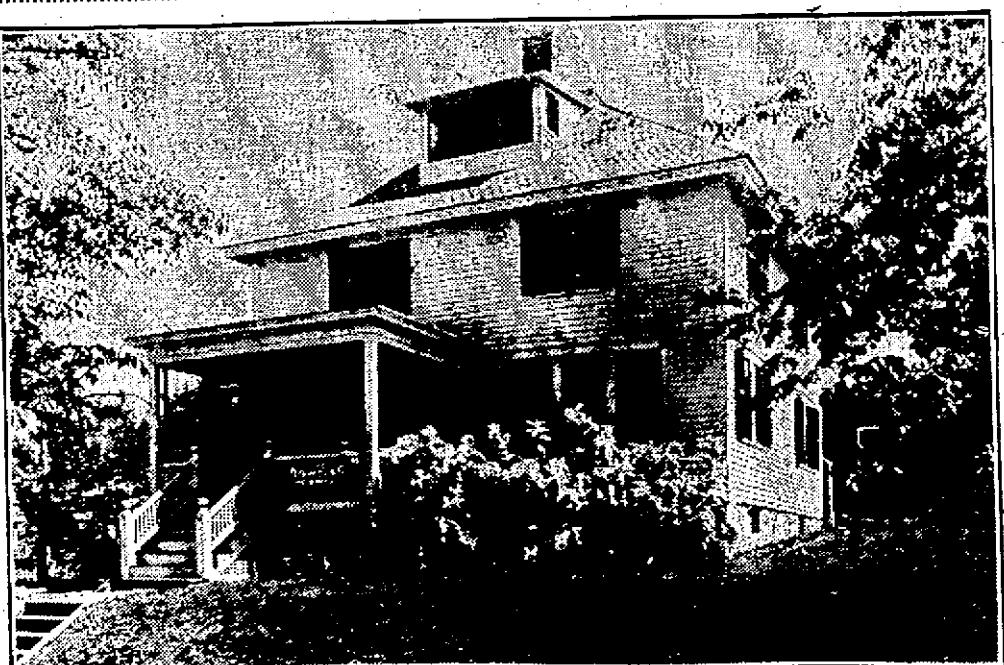

Cincinnati, Ohio.—"I suffered for a year with nervous troubles and irregularities before I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. My back pained all the time and I was unfit for housework. I was worn out if I cooked a meal, and was unable to do my washing. My girl friends and my sister told me if I would take your Vegetable Compound and Liver Pills I would be relieved. After taking the first bottle I felt better, and neglected it awhile, but I found I could not do my work until I was stronger. So I took the Vegetable Compound again and now I am the mother of a 19 months old boy. He is fat and healthy and I am sure I could never have carried him if it had not been for your Vegetable Compound. I recommend your medicine to all women although I am young to be advising some one older."—Mrs. CHRIST. PETROFF, 218 W. Liberty St., Cincinnati, Ohio.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound contains no harmful drugs and can be taken in safety by any woman.

Patrolman Dies Suddenly

Smith, who stated death was due to natural causes.

Patrolman Goggin performed his regular shift last evening and at 1:30 o'clock this morning, he reported at the police station for roll call. Shortly afterwards, he left for his home and that was the last time he was seen alive. It is not known at what time he reached his home, for his wife did not hear him enter the house, and at 11 o'clock, Mrs. Goggin noticed that he was not in bed and upon investigating found him lying dead on the kitchen floor. It is believed that he was stricken with a shock shortly after entering the house, for his keys were still clutched in his hand.

Mr. Goggin was born in Cork, Ireland, Jan. 16, 1871, and came to this country while a young man. He was appointed to the probationary force on May 1, 1906, and on Jan. 8, 1907, he was promoted to the regular reserve force. He was made permanent patrolman on July 8, 1909. In commenting upon his death this morning, Supt. Atkinson said Patrolman Goggin was a good, faithful and conscientious officer.

Besides his bereaved wife, Mrs. Catherine J. Goggin, deceased leaves to mourn his loss two daughters, Frances and Margaret Goggin; a son, John Goggin, and a brother and a sister in Ireland. He was a member of the Massachusetts Police Relief association and Div. 8, A.O.H.

DENIES FRANCE MILITARISTIC

More Lenient With Germany Than Germans Had Been
With France in 1870

Jusserand Speaking at Chicago Defends Course With
"Respect to Reparation, Etc.

CHICAGO, June 13.—The course of France with respect to reparations, her army and her part at the arms conference, were defended by Jules J. Jusserand, the French ambassador to the United States in address today at the commencement exercises of University of Chicago.

The ambassador denied that France was militaristic, declared France had been more lenient with Germany than the Germans had been with the French in 1870, and asserted that the ambitions of France in the Washington conference were "in reality modest ones and aimed only at resuming in this respect (naval power) as well as for trade, industry, agriculture, etc., the rank we had held before the war."

The subject of trade also was touched upon by the ambassador who gave assurances that America had nothing to fear from France in that respect, because "first, our products are not so very cheap; second, they do not generally compete with yours; each of us conforming to our bent and obeying our own interest follow different lines."

Officers Cossette and Dwyer said that they say the defendant go into number 216 and that the following day in two bags were found on the floor. Both of them contained bottles and in one were found 12 pints of whiskey. According to the officers, the defendant pointed to the bags and said, "Well, there's your evidence."

A search of the house revealed a barrel of bottles on the second floor. Officers, however, attempted to have this part of the premises searched out, as he said it had nothing to do with the near-beer establishment. The court ruled that it would be admissible if connection between the saloon and tenement could be shown. Officer Dwyer said that he had seen man in the saloon in a drunken condition and at the time he had warned the defendant that all of these things would count against him if he was ever brought in for liquor infractions. The defendant replied that it was not his fault if the man wandered into his place while under the influence of liquor.

Is Fined $20.

The assault and battery case was one in which Della St. Ongé accused Mike Somonlon, proprietor of a Gorham street lodging-house in which she had an apartment, with striking her following a tussle in which she forcefully ejected him from her bedroom. Mike was found guilty by the court and ordered to pay a fine of $20. He took an appeal.

According to the testimony, the St. Ongé girl lived with her sisters, Elaine Lamont and Edith Bourne, the trio occupying two apartments. On the night of June 2 the girl said that her two sisters were in the kitchen of one of the apartments the elder curling the younger's hair. Mike is alleged to have come into the room, without knocking, and asking for Della. The girls say that, despite the fact they told Mike that Della was in the bedroom, scantly attired, he entered. Della ordered him from the room. When he refused she forced him into the kitchen. It is said that Della started to return to the bedroom when Mike struck her in the back. Della admitted that she then struck Mike with a tonic bottle.

Mike denied the assault and said that when he went to the girl's apartment to order them to vacate Della became angry and following an argument threw a tonic bottle at him. In making his finding the court said that in order to discharge Mike he would have to believe the girls were lying and that he didn't think such was the case.

BODY FOUND ON TRACKS

Unknown Man Killed by Train May Have Lived in Lowell

(Special to The Sun)
ACTON, June 12.—Lying in a plain wooden casket in the morgue at Woodlawn cemetery, Acton Centre, is the body of an unknown man found a week ago Saturday night on the Boston & Maine railroad tracks near the West street crossing in the village of South Acton.

Considerable mystery surrounds the case, and the town authorities, working in conjunction with Medical Examiner H. H. Braley of Concord and officials from the Middlesex county district attorney's offices, are completely puzzled by the unusual circumstances revealed by late investigation.

The remains of the train victim now lie in the local morgue until proper identification. On Thursday, if the body is not claimed, interment will take place in the little "Potter's Field" plot on the southerly side of Woodlawn.

Convinced, however, that the unknown man has relatives somewhere in this vicinity and that he was employed in Lowell or Haverhill, or some other nearby city at good wages, the Acton town authorities have asked The Sun to aid them in locating the man's nearest kin or working associates.

The discovery that the train's victim was not a member of the wanderer's class and out of funds, was made by Melvin Examiner Braley, who was called in to the case by the Acton town authorities. Selectman Fred Davis of West Acton, who has been conducting a vigorous investigation of the mystery, and is making every effort to locate the unknown man's friends or relatives, told The Sun man today that the unfortunate had $273 in greenbacks strapped closely around his lower right ankle. The method of keeping the money in place was most peculiar. The medical examiner at first failed to find any valuables on the man's person, but upon examining the legs at the instant, found a curious flesh-colored lump on one ankle. Upon exploring it with a knife, a wad of new bills was revealed. The man had evidently "worn" his "bank" for many weeks in that position.

The description of the man's body furnished The Sun today by Selectman Davis was as follows:

Probably of American parentage, oddly colored light reddish hair, smooth face, five feet, 10 inches tall, blue suit, tan shoes, good underwear and nothing shirt, neatly shaved face, body unusually clean, showing the man to be a person of evident good personal habits. Besides the money found on the body, there was a safety razor, some tobacco and matches and a plain jackknife.

The Acton police believe the man may have been a mill worker on his way to Maynard or other nearby mill towns in search of new employment

Many Lowell textile workers have recently walked through Acton on their way to Maynard to seek employment at the American Woolen plant there. The Lowell police have been notified a report coming to the Acton authorities late today that a former mill worker from that city had disappeared from his Spindale City home within the past two weeks.

The Human Terms of Tire Competition

ANY American citizen has turned down a "job that looks like more money" in favor of a chance to do better work.

He gets called an idealist, perhaps. But when folks want to buy good merchandise and satisfactory service he's the kind of man they look for.

For practical example note the tire business.

Think back to the time when cord tires started to be talked about.

Cord construction had for its ideal a bigger service value for the car owner.

Whenever the cord principle was faithfully carried out it lived up to its original vision.

Now the makers of U. S. Royal Cords ask permission to put this on record:

Without high integrity of manufacture the cord tire might just as well not have been discovered at all.

Respect for the fine and rigid rules of cord tire building has made U. S.

BLOWN FROM RAFT

BOSTON, June 13.—A 4-year-old boy lost his life as the result of the gale that swept Boston and vicinity yesterday when the stiff breeze blew him from a raft on which he was sailing about Dudley Pond, Wayland. The young victim of the wind was

Thomas J. Hynes, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Hynes of Marcelia st., Roxbury. With his mother, the boy had gone to a summer camp on the shores of the pond and went out on the raft. The stiff wind swept across the pond and kicked up a nasty "sea."

A particularly strong gust struck the clumsy craft and the little boy tumbled into the water.

Food that makes red blood!

Kellogg's whole-wheat KRUMBLES—with the full, enticing flavor of whole wheat for the first time—are wonderful makers of red blood, of bone, and of tissue!

Compare the red-blooded man or woman with puny, undernourished types, then you'll realize why every child should eat KRUMBLES every day to become rugged and enjoy robust health; to become physically courageous and mentally keen; to be able to go into the world READY to take a leading part!

KRUMBLES are a perfectly balanced food. They contain every vital food element! KRUMBLES counteract the effect of the denatured foods we eat—foods robbed of life-sustaining elements!

KRUMBLES eaten daily renew the strength of men and women workers and provide food that sustains the aged. All grocers sell KRUMBLES!

The only whole-wheat food with a delicious flavor!

DOES NOT HAVE TO TAKE PHYSIC

"Fruit-a-lives" Brought Complete Relief

ASHFORD, NEW YORK.—I tried several kinds of physic for over three years and, of course, while I took it every night my bowels would move; but as soon as I stopped taking physic, I would be constipated and would have piles terribly.

I bought one box of "Fruit-a-lives" and took them. Now I am not troubled any more with constipation or piles. "Fruit-a-lives" or "Fruit Laxo Tablets" left no after-effects and now I do not have to use physic.

SUPERFLUOUS AUTOS

Early in the year Mayor Brown told the people of Lowell that he would keep a close watch on the city automobiles and that if he found them being used for private purposes, he would open a municipal garage in which every car used by city employees would be checked up every time it was taken out. About the same time he expressed himself as in favor of the less expensive cars as suitable for all municipal purposes. Now, however, we find that he rides around in a seven-passenger Packard, the most expensive type of car made, and purchased a few days ago, for $2,938. How different from the car that he thought good enough early in the year and what a difference between promise and performance!

We are not discussing the merits or demerits of different cars. It is the purchase of the car to which we object, because there is no actual need of an additional automobile for the mayor's department at the present time. The Hudson coupe, which the mayor has been using, is being overhauled and will be available very soon. The seven-passenger Buick bought by former Commissioner Donnelly is a "general" car and would serve the mayor very well. Then there is the seven-passenger Buick sedan, which needs only a coat of paint to make it a good serviceable car. It was good enough for Mayor Thompson and this or any of the other cars mentioned should be good enough for Mayor Brown. It is said that it is to be used by the public service board, which, however, calls but seldom for any car. With these four available for the mayor, why purchase a new and expensive one? The fact is, that there are too many cars in use by city officials just at present. Moreover, the expenditure for motor vehicles since January last, is over $10,000, although the cars owned by the city last year were left in fairly good condition by the outgoing government.

Mayor Brown has had much to say of economy, but in this automobile purchase such as it is practised by other officials, would very soon put the city on the financial toboggan. It is certainly a bad example of economy, but it is said that this honor needs the high priced car in order to keep up the dignity of his office. It is doubtless for the same reason that he has a regular chauffeur at $5 per day with an occasional substitute always within call. If that were the only motive for the purchase of the new car it was an expensive method of upholding the city's dignity, which might be upheld to a still greater extent in various ways which cost nothing but which were nevertheless necessary.

The present wrangle over the tariff question in congress offers the best proof that this entire problem should be removed from the domain of partisan politics. An effort was made during the Wilson administration to have the tariff commission handle all the questions relative to necessary changes in schedules. The commission obtained a great deal of data which was helpful in fixing schedules that would meet the necessities of existing conditions without giving offence to foreign nations. It is absolutely impossible for congress to obtain such information to frame a tariff bill that will be either scientific or economically beneficial to this country. The republican party seems to be determined to go to the extreme of high protection and in some cases the democrats are almost as bad in seeking the opposite extreme. Neither side at the present time has the necessary data on which to base accurate tariff duties.

Already some of the foreign nations have protested against the plans for an excessive tariff as outlined in the bill before congress, but they must not be allowed to dictate the policy of this country in dealing with tariff questions. It will be time enough for them to speak when the tariff becomes law and when they see how it will affect their interests. The present legislation is intended to protect the interests of the United States rather than those of foreign nations. It is true that the interests and the good will of other nations cannot be wholly ignored; but it will be time enough to meet objections after the bill becomes law. It is a fact that at the present time this country is being flooded with goods manufactured in Germany and some other European nations; and it is also a fact that since the war we have lost the greater part of our foreign trade because the prices of our products are so high that foreign nations cannot afford to buy them. In this condition there is a problem that requires the most careful attention not only of congress but of all the people. The question is whether the tariff will put up prices and still further reduce our foreign trade. Haphazard tariff tinkering is rather dangerous business.

REPUBLICANS ALARMED

At a time when republican political bosses were laying plans for a great campaign fund for the fall elections, Chairman Andrew, on the committee on elections, has introduced a bill to regulate expenditures except at primaries so that all candidates for the senate shall be limited to an expenditure of $10,000, and members of congress to $5,000. Moreover, the bill provides that the name and address of every person contributing $100 shall be published.

IGNORANT LOT

The ambitious wife of a millionaire tanner was giving a dinner party, and in the course of the meal she noticed that her husband did not use cutlery. After it was over and she had an opportunity, she whispered to him angrily, "Why don't you talk?" "What's the good?" replied the tanner contemptuously. CHAMBERS OF COMMERCE

Mr. William Trottier, formerly of this city, is now assistant manager of the Fall River chamber of commerce, and a general hustler for the promotion of chamber activities. In an address before the Letter Carriers' organization of Fall River a few days ago, he told his audience of the functions of a chamber of commerce as being for the benefit of the entire city and not for any special group, not even for the members individually or collectively. In most of the activities of every chamber of commerce, the chief benefit of its achievements are felt by the non-members quite as fully as by the members themselves. Mr. Trottier showed that this is the case in Fall River and it is so also in Lowell. Every new industry induced to come here helps all the people, and so with every public improvement, every new enterprise, every step toward better traffic facilities, and better business conditions. As Mr. Trottier shows, the best results are obtained when the chamber of commerce receives the cordial support of the public in its efforts to promote measures for the benefit of all the people, even when opposed by some special group.

OUR ECONOMIC PROBLEMS

Raymond Pearl, professor at Johns Hopkins university, believes that our population has passed its most rapid period of growth.

From now on, he predicts, the increase will be slower, and population 100 years hence will not be more than twice what it is now. It is futile to attempt to forecast economic problems that will bother our descendants in the year 2022, for then will differ from the present even more startlingly than 1922 differed from 1822. With tykes as many people, there probably will be twice as many problems.

We have rid ourselves of most of the problems of our ancestors. For this, thank science and invention. On the other hand, we have a maze of social and economic problems of which our ancestors never dreamed. For, in "solving" one problem, man usually creates several new ones.

Only one problem never changes—food supply. The stomach and its appetite seem immune against progress. Our economic legacy to the future should be scientific agriculture and conservation of forests, soil fertility and other natural resources.

HEAVY INSURANCE

More and more are wealthy men and companies putting their reliance and a large part of their wealth into life insurance. Here is the Walworth Manufacturing company of Boston insuring the life of its president, Mr. Howard Coonley for $1,000,000, although he is only 45 years of age and so far as appears, is still what the insurance men would call an excellent risk. Mr. Coonley has proven himself to be a great executive and the sum of a million might hardly recoup the company for its loss in case he should die suddenly. But the company without any such danger in prospect, protects itself against the loss of a great sum even if a man who has been entertained there before, and more or less ignores another fellow who is receiving your hospitality for the first time. Yet in a hotel dining room the head waiter is most careful to see the man who has been here before, and the man who has been here, and the waiter makes more cause over an old customer than one who is giving the store a first trial."—National Business.

THE BROOK

When I was young, when I was very young.

When I was innocent, and young, and free.

I loved a brook that sung, and sung,

A song meant but for me.

The brook was silvery, and wound its way.

Through greennesses to greennesses, and blue.

Forget-me-nots stood there from day to day.

And there the iris grew.

The lilac bushes, bent their heavy heads.

Over the pebbly bank to see their faces;

It was a plot of dark, cool flower-beds.

The dimpest of all places.

And it was calm and cool from dawn to eve.

A world of flowers, and dusk, and of sweet smells.

So peaceful that its peacefulness was like.

The noise of many myriad-sounding bells.

When I was young, when I was very young.

When I was free, and young, and innocent,

The brook was over hastening, hastening onwards.

And leaving me, I know not where.

It is the brook in "Contemporary Verse" by H. Webster for June.

MRS. PELLETIER DEAD

Continued

Unquestionably the splendid results attained by Rev. Fr. Murphy in North Billerica, commanded itself to the cardinal in selecting him for such an important parish in the Savin Hill section of Dorchester. His erection of a splendid church and house in North Billerica, his marvelous energy, and zeal for his flock were some of the contributing causes for the splendid results he achieved in North Billerica.

It has been said that St. William's parish in Dorchester is one of the most important parishes set out by Cardinal O'Connell since coming to the diocese and that he has selected a native of Lowell for this place with pleasure.

Fr. Murphy will be succeeded in North Billerica by Rev. Dr. Charles J. Sullivan, a Lowell boy, formerly chancellor of the diocese and secretary to Cardinal O'Connell. This is Rev. Dr. Sullivan's reward for faithful service in several important positions in the diocese and he comes to North Billerica not entirely unfamiliar with the district and also in the possession of a splendid new church and parish house.

Rev. John J. O'Hearn, a native of St. Patrick's parish and a brother of the late Dr. Daniel O'Hearn, has been promoted to a pastorate and assigned to a new parish recently set out in Hamilton. Rev. Fr. O'Hearn is very well known here, was assistant to Rev. Msgr. Toolin in Lynn for years and latterly has been attached to a parish in Charlestown.

Rev. Thomas P. McNamee another Lowell boy now stationed at St. Margaret's church, Columbia road, Dorchester, has been placed in charge of a new parish recently set out in Auburndale, a very fine section of the diocese. Like Fr. O'Hearn, Fr. McNamee is very well known here, as a member of one of Lowell's best known families. He has been identified with parishes in and around Boston for several years, and his promotion to a pastorate comes to him after a service of over two decades in important parishes.

Rev. William H. Flinnick, of East Chelmsford, now stationed in Marlboro, has been advanced to a pastorate and placed in charge of the parish at East Woburn, made vacant by the transfer of Rev. Fr. Flordan to the pastorate of a church in Marshfield.

While the home of Mr. Flinnick is in East Chelmsford, his interests and the interests of the Flinnick family have always been associated with Lowell and the parish of the Sacred Heart. Rev. Fr. Flinnick is one of the ablest speakers in the archdiocese and several years ago made a splendid impression in a sermon delivered at the Sacred Heart church to the Holy Name societies of the city. He is popular among all classes in Marlboro, and his promotion will be hailed with joy not only here but in the city wherein most of his priestly labors have been wrought.

Rev. Charles P. Heaney, pastor of St. John's church, North Chelmsford, since the death of Rev. Fr. Schofield, has been made pastor of St. Joseph's church, West End, Boston, in succession to Rev. Fr. Flordan to the pastorate of a church in Marshfield.

How to Play Baseball

"Stuffy" McInnis, Indians Star First Baseman, Gives Fielding Tips

JOHNNY McINNIS

Who Made Only One Error in 1921—
Cleveland Indians

A good glove perhaps is more essential to a first baseman than any other player, with the possible exception of catcher.

Practise with glove, take the best of care of it, and do not permit any one else to use it.

Every one catches a ball differently, and such use changes the pocket, which you have worn into the glove to conform to your style.

Learn to squeeze every ball that is thrown to you.

Study your batters especially as to where they are most likely to hit, and give consideration to their speed. Play accordingly.

If a man is fast, hurry to the bag on a hit to the infield, so that you can stretch to the limit, thereby giving the infielder the benefit of the distance when you gain. It may mean the decision in your favor.

Have your foot in front of the bag, not on it. Then you will be in a perfect position to shift feet if the direction of the throw demands it.

Handing Bunts

On balls thrown by the third baseman into the runner, you must learn to play them with your gloved hand, as you are a right-handed first baseman.

That is one of the most difficult plays. In practice, catch as many balls as possible in the gloved hand, and perfect you in that play.

AMATEUR BASEBALL

The Rambler Thirds defeated the Lowell Stars by a score of 11 to 6. The nature of the game was Gleason's pitching. The Thirds would like to have four 11-12 year old teams for games in this city.

The Hustlers challenge the Ramblers. Seconds to a game on Sunday for 10 and 11 year olds, the game to be played either on the Fair grounds or the South common. If challenge is accepted, answer through this paper, or call 6354-X.

The Belvidere Pirates send in the following: In the game, all column last night, it was agreed that the Emeralds would defeat us. We played but one game with the Emeralds and this we won, 11 to 8. One more thing, Mr. Edger. We asked them for a second game, as they did not accept the challenge.

The North Ends opened their season last Sunday on the North common with the Lisbon club. When the game was called in the fourth inning the North Ends were ahead by a score of 13 to 1. A game is wanted for Sunday with either the Chelmsford A.A., the Lincolns or the Appleton Mill.

The Arrows challenge any 10-12 year old teams in the city for a game to be played Saturday morning for a cent hall, the Diamond Sluggers presented.

The Buckhorn Seconds defeated the Knights last Saturday by a score of 9 to 8. The winners would like to hear from the Yankees Seconds.

The Leopard Juniors would like to challenge the Fullon Stars for a Saturday game for a 36 cent ball, the game to be played on the Lakeview Avenue grounds. Call 5472-R and ask James.

The Yankees refuse to play the Vermont A.C. because they claim that am is a 16-17 year old team. The Vermonters wish to let teams know that they have only two players 16 years old. All others are under 16. The Vermonters will play the Nationals Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

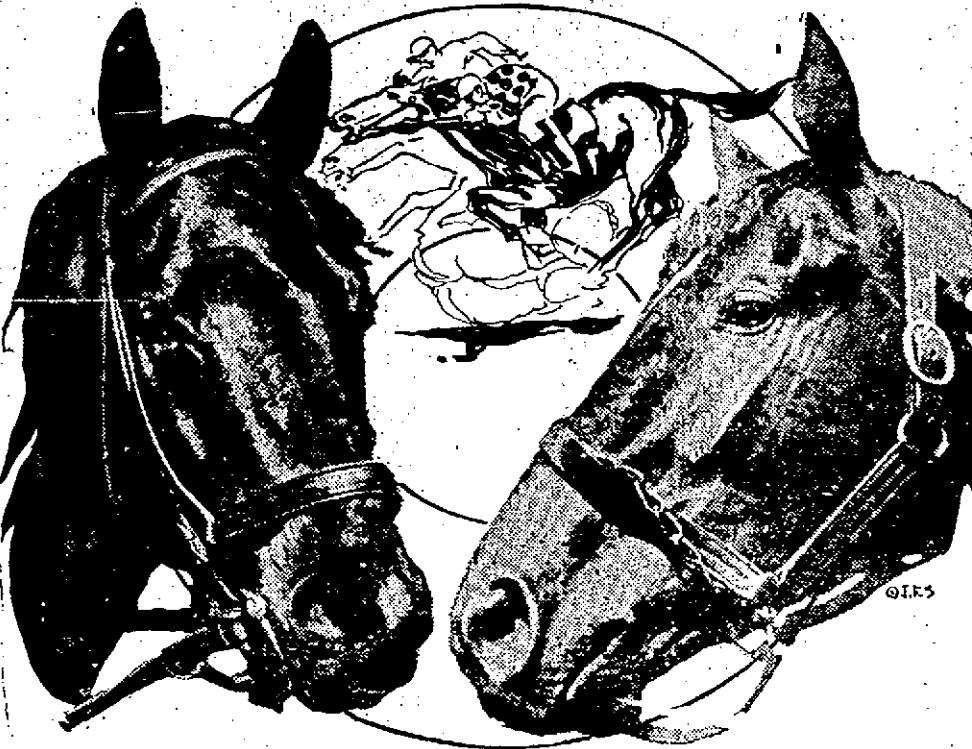

The Yankees defeated the Jewells a score of 9 to 0. If the Americans would like to return game will they please get a permit for the Oval for Saturday.

The Bunting A.A. would like to meet fast team in the city. For games call 2143-W or 70827. The Pawtucket team or Chelmsford A.A. preferred.

The Clare Warriors have the following to offer in reply to an article in this column by the Braves: We wish to answer the letter from a Braves which appeared in this column Jan. Saturday. We defeated them in the first eight games by a score of 11 to 10. We kept all agreements. Every player on our team was within the age limit and the four lines were explained clearly before the game. We regret especially that the Braves have not taken their defeat so bitterly. We kept our bathing outfit, but a glove and a bathing suit. We were unformed for a baseball game and not for a swimming match.

The game between the Leopard Juniors and the Junior Braves was off, because the former refused to play, thereby giving the victory to the

BY BILLY EVANS

Man o' War or Morvich? Is Morvich, the winner of the Kentucky derby, superior to Man o' War? That question was recently put to Sam Riddle, the owner of Man o' War, who replied:

"To decide such supremacy it would necessitate racing the horses against each other. It would require actual competition. Man o' war will never return to the turf, so that method of procedure is out of the question."

Evans, who has a great thing for the racing game that Man o' War is retiring, Discussion creates interest. The shoving of Morvich as a two and three-year-old will cause many an argument as to the relative ability of the two horses.

WHAT EXPERT SAYS

George T. Miller, the veteran starter, is another racing expert who believes that luck has camped on the trail of Morvich.

"The winning of the Louisville Derby, by, while it was done in a most decisive fashion, does not satisfactorily establish Morvich as the outstanding three-year-old in the country," says Miller.

"In winning the Derby Morvich beat an ordinary lot. There was no Bunting, Kai Sang, Olympus, Whiskaway, Piftry or any of the other crack three-year-olds trailing him."

"The test for Morvich is to come Morvich is entered in a number of feature stakes, where he should meet the strongest opposition in the Derby. If he comes home the winner in each event then he will be entitled to close comparison with the great Man o' War. Until then it is ridiculous to name Morvich the turf king of the three-year-olds."

Evans, regardless of what experts think of Morvich, Benjamin Block, his owner, seems very well satisfied.

He laughed at a fancy offer to buy the colt and said he valued him at a half-million when asked to put a price on him.

Meet to Hear Initial Campaign Reports

After 12 days of campaigning, a meeting of the officers and team captains of the Boy Scout drive was held last night for the purpose of hearing the initial reports, and resulted in the announcement of subscriptions amounting to $1500. The initial report was not quite as large as was anticipated, but it is felt that the balance of the $6000 which has been named as the goal will be brought in before the end of the month. The drive opened on the first of June and will close on the first of July.

That the local officers might be enabled to complete a thorough reorganization of the Scout movement locally, the sum of $6000 was set as the sum which must be secured. Throughout the month of May plans were made for the garnering of this sum, and more than 20 team captains ap-

A CIVIC APPEAL

To our Fellow Citizens:

The training of the youth of our city in activities which strengthen and enlarge their mental and physical attainments is a cause worthy of your most generous support. The Boy Scout movement is organized for the betterment of the American boy, nothing else. Membership in the organization and active participation in the attractive scout program bring to the boy opportunity for clear thinking; a broadening of his interest in civic responsibility; the formation of good habits and the inculcation of virtues essential to good character. In other words, let us help make our Lowell boys self-reliant, clean, strong, frank, kind and generous. The Boy Scout organization is the great outdoor school to do all this.

Your committee, simply citizens of Lowell like yourselves, is interested in building up our boys to be manly men with a broad conception of American ideals. May we ask a little of that same unselfish co-operation from you. Six thousand dollars is needed to rejuvinate the Boy Scout movement in Lowell for the next year. Will you kindly help by sending your contribution to Charles F. Langley, treasurer, 20 Hurst street?

pointed to cover all section of the city as well as the industrial enterprises. Last night was the first report meeting.

The meeting was called to order by President C. D. A. Grasse, with Benjamin S. Houzner acting as temporary secretary in the absence of Frank D. Proctor, because of illness. After routine business had been transacted the team captains reported as follows:

Dr. John H. Lambert.....$100

A number of the team captains were without reports, but are expected to make a good showing by the next meeting. These captains, not mentioned in the above list are: J. J. Hilton, J. D. Willard Ryan, Rev. Karl P. Melster, Garfield Davis, Frank D. Proctor, Mackay W. Cook, Pearl T. Durrell, Edward F. Saunders, A. Gordon Foster, E. J. Conney, E. T. Doherty, C. F. Emerson, John J. Walsh, Frank Rilean, G. W. Neville, F. L. Faulcon and Malcolm F. Fryer.

The meeting suspended its business session after the reading of reports, and listened to an excellent and interesting story relative to the prospects of a strong Scout organization in Lowell, by R. N. Berry, New England Scout executive. He compared the work here with that done in such cities as Quincy, Malden, Norwell, Conn., Bridgeport, Conn., New London, Conn., Manchester, N. H., Bangor, Me., Portland, Me., and Burlington, Vt. In these cities, the quota being much the same as Lowell, many over-subscriptions have occurred.

Following these remarks the meeting adjourned for the conduct of the remainder of the campaign, and adjourned to meet in the chamber of commerce next Monday evening.

It is said that a well-built chimney 100 feet high will sway from three to four inches in high wind without danger of falling.

The death rate from motor vehicle accidents is higher in Los Angeles than in any other western city.

Prof. Louis A. Olney Honored
Lowell and Lawrence

For the past 25 years Professor Louis A. Olney has been connected with the chemistry department of the Lowell Textile school. On last Saturday members of the Olney chemical alumni of the evening school appropriately marked the completion of this quarter-century of service by an outing held at Pelham Inn, at which 100 or more members of the association were present.

Naturally, the event generated no little amount of good fellowship. Sports included a baseball game that was captured by a Lawrence team, captained by "Bill" Brandy. Two six-round boxing bouts were staged and there was a program of running races, with men from Lawrence and Lowell in competition. George Stewart, of the alumni board of control led the Lowell athletes.

A chicken dinner was not at all neglected and it was followed by most enjoyable post-prandial exercises. The principal speaker was Hon. P. W. Mahoney of Lawrence, who presented a leather brief case to Professor Olney on behalf of the alumni.

In the absence of Thomas Peal of Franklin, N. H., president of the association, William T. Brandy of Lawrence, secretary treasurer, was the presiding officer.
